Dominican Expected To Prolong Crisis

Bloody Repression Of Haiti Chief's Foes Feared As Probe Unit Departs

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Diplomats feared today that the departure from Haiti of an Inter-American investigating commission would be followed by new and bloody repression of President Francois Duvalier's political foes.

Concern also spread because Duvalier's regime had offered safe conduct out of the country for only 15 of 22 Haitians who took asylum in the Dominican Republic's Embassy during a weekend wave of terror. The Dominican government was expected to insist that all 22 be allowed to leave, prolonging the crisis between the two neighbors on the island of Hispaniola.

The six-nation mission from the Organization of American States planned to fly today to Santo Domingo, the Dominican capital, to discuss the question of the refugees with President Juan Bosch and continue its investigation.

Informed sources said the Haitian government was refusing to let alleged leaders of plots against Duvalier leave the country but was willing to allow those considered lesser conspirators to go.

Duvalier's government reportedly made a similar offer with regard to nearly 100 others who have taken refuge in the embassies of Brazil, Chile, Venezuela and Ecuador.

Duvalier raised the threat of new repressions in a speech Tuesday night to a rally of 10,000 supporters.

"Those who are uncertain about what to do had better put themselves on my side," he declared. "At the moment when it becomes necessary to go into the streets, I will go with presidential guards and popular forces.

"The machine will crush the opposition."

Tension and fear gripped Haiti's ramshackle capital.

Four explosions were heard in the Beau Boeuf section Tuesday night. Shortly after units of Duvalier's militia raced through the area and the sound of firing was heard.

More arrests were reported.

The home of Clement Barbot, a friend of Duvalier who broke with him and vowed to seek his overthrow, was put to the torch. Barbot was believed hiding inside the country.

The United States sent another protest to Duvalier, complaining that the American Embassy's first secretary was halted in his car Tuesday night. Guards forced him to stand with his hands raised in the glare of his car's headlights until he identified himself.

Diplomatic sources said at least 15 persons were killed Friday and Saturday, and there were rumors many more died.

Duvalier's crackdown appeared aimed mainly at 64 army officers he dismissed last week. He reportedly believes they were to be the spearhead of a revolt.

In Santo Domingo, the Dominican foreign ministry issued a statement denying that Foreign Minister Andres Freites had told the OAS mission he had word of an offer by Duvalier to Fidel Castro's regime of bases in Haiti.

The foreign office said Freites instead told the OAS group that he had information Duvalier was offering bases to "anti-Castroites to provoke an attack or an irregular Castroite action from Cuba in Haiti."

Freites also had been quoted as charging that Duvalier had close ties with Communist nations and had entered into some sort of arrangement with Czechoslovakia.

The foreign ministry said with regard to that point that Freites had charged Duvalier has "been dealing with Iron Curtain countries in political and economic negotiations, the significance of which at the present moment is obvious."

The Associated Press, which had erroneously reported Freites' statements, was unable to obtain comment on the charges from Duvalier or other Haitian officials.

Bill Goes To Senate

Ohio House Okays $1.3 Billion Budget By 102 To 27 Vote

Fund Would Run State For 2 Years

Six Democratic Amendments Lose Out During Debate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Legislature has rounded the final turn and is in the home stretch. All signs point to the probability the lawmakers will cross the finish line by mid-June.

The big move in the adjournment drive came Wednesday when the House passed and sent to the Senate the big money bill of the session, the measure calling for $1.3 billion to run the state government and pay school, local government and welfare subsidies for the next two years.

After hours of debate and the defeat of six Democratic amendments to liberalize the balanced budget presented by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes, the general appropriations bill was sent to the Senate by a 102-27 vote.

Earlier, both Houses approved a $749-million appropriation for highways in the next two years and another $28 million for the Highway Safety Department. The combined total exceeds $2 billion.

As usual, the Senate is left holding the legislative bag. From now until mid-June, restive representatives will be needling senators to shut the session off.

But there is a large amount of work to be done in both houses.

The Senate always takes at least a month to look over the big appropriation bill after the House finishes with it. The first Senate hearing on the $1.3 billion measure cannot be held before next week. And, generally, after the Senate finishes tinkering with the bill, it takes a joint Senate-House conference committee another week to iron out differences.

Here is a rundown on other major legislation which has passed one house or the other:

—The Senate-approved bill to require able bodied relief recipients to work for their checks probably will come to a House vote next week.

—The measure, already approved by both houses, to create a board of regents to coordinate the activities of Ohio higher education, is tied up in a joint conference committee.

—A bill to create a youth commission has passed the House and is in a Senate committee.

Churchill Steps Down

House Of Commons Losing Its Greatest Son

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons is losing its greatest son.

After 60 years of triumph and trial in the mother of Parliaments Sir Winston Churchill announced Wednesday he is quitting politics because of his health.

The 88-year-old statesman's regretful decision evoked deep feeling of sadness throughout Britain that he felt he had to go and pride in all that he had done.

"We will never see his like again," said many.

The old war horse, slowed by age and physical decline, said he will not be a candidate in the next general election, due by October 1964. He will remain a member of Commons until Parliament is dissolved before the election.

Churchill wrote his Conservative supporters in his electoral district of Woodford that his accident last year when he fell and broke his left thigh, "greatly decreased my mobility, and it has become difficult for me to attend the House of Commons as I would wish."

"I need not tell you with what sadness I feel constrained to take this step," he said.

Churchill's 60-year career in Commons was unmatched for brilliance and achievement.

From a brash, outspoken stripling legislator of 26, he rose to immortality in his own lifetime.

He made a shaky start, failing in his first race for Commons in 1899. He made it the next year. Except for two years in the political wilderness, when he was voted out of office in the 1920s, he has been a member of Commons ever since. Priding himself on being a "child of the House of Commons," he declined a peerage to remain there.

His career included nearly every cabinet office except foreign secretary. The highest prize came when he was 65, on May 10, 1949. His unheeded prophecies of peril had proved correct and Britain faced defeat from the Nazis. He took over the reins of government from Neville Chamberlain and three days later, in his first speech as prime minister, offered his people "nothing but blood, toil, tears and sweat."

Probe Hinted On Report Of Exiles Arms

Official Spokesmen Decline Comment On Miami Arsenals

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. government agents may be investigating a report of Cuban refugee arsenals in Miami. But, if so, they are doing it in secrecy and silence.

Official spokesmen in Washington refuse to say whether they are investigating or, in fact, have the duty to investigate the report.

John Raymond, in a story copyrighted by the Boston Traveler, wrote Wednesday that he had spent four days with Cuban Freedom Fighters in Miami last month and had seen Cuban exiles loading grenades in an apartment and had noticed a 100-pound bomb in a backyard shed. The Traveler said Raymond, in future articles, would describe Cuban arsenals in Miami.

The stories, which are being distributed nationally by The Associated Press, provoked a round of "no comments" in Washington.

The FBI said, "We can't have any comment on that at all."

Start Second Leg

Freedom Hikers Jeered, Insulted

TRENTON, Ga. (AP)—A group of "Freedom Marchers" sets out today on the second leg of a walk through the Deep South as a protest to segregation. The marchers drew jeers and insults their first day out.

They are retracing the steps of Baltimore postman William Moore, who was shot to death near Attalla, Ala., April 24. The group faces probable arrest in Alabama.

Eight Negroes who planned a similar demonstration from Attalla were arrested Wednesday and charged with breach of the peace. They are being held in jail at Gadsden, Ala.

The Freedom Marchers who started their walk from Chattanooga, Tenn., spent the night huddled in sleeping bags and blankets on the floor and pews of a little white frame church at Hooker, a northwest Georgia community.

Hooker, population 400, is about two miles from U.S. 11 along which the demonstrators are walking. The Mount Calvary Baptist Church is in the midst of a Negro community.

But white persons live nearby, and some of them dropped in to speak to the five white men and the five Negro men. Most of them said they came because they were curious.

The marchers met with jeers along the route from Chattanooga to the Tennessee line, about nine miles. Two Tennessee troopers in a patrol car accompanied them to the Georgia line. There were no officers at the Georgia side of the line.

Most of the hecklers cried "nigger lover" at the marchers.

A handful of gravel was thrown at the marchers from a car.

Many Negroes along the highway waved gaily.

Five of the Marchers are members of the Congress of Racial Equality and five belong to the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Robert Gore, 31, a member of Core, led the march most of the way. He carried a sign which said "Equal Rights to All—Mississippi or Bust" on one side and "Eat at Joe's—Black and White" on the other side.

Moore was carrying a similar sign when he was killed at Attalla. A white grocer, Floyd Simpson, was charged with murder earlier this week in the slaying of Moore, also white.

Financial Aid Outlined For Chester Park

Commission And Council Confer On Fund Raising Steps

Plans to enlist the aid of Chester organizations to support the City Park were aired at a meeting of the Park Commission and members of Council Wednesday night at the park community building.

Discussion on methods of raising money to operate the park followed a report from Harold Dickey, commission chairman, that only $195 remains in the park treasury.

There is a debt of $3,900 outstanding on a bank note for construction of the recently completed community building.

Dickey pointed out there is no present source of income for the park commission which in past years had conducted mail solicitations.

A 75-cent individual tax for the park is part of a $6 head tax proposed in Council, which has yet to take final action.

Councilmen last night agreed to assist the commission financially as much as possible.

Dickey and Lawrence Cline, commission member, outlined future plans for the park area, including boat docks, tennis courts,

Figures Given To State

$130,019 Estimate Filed In Project For Route 267

Proposed improvement of Route 267 (Lisbon St.) between W. 8th St. and the city limits will cost approximately $130,019, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said in an estimate forwarded Wednesday to the Division 11 office of the State Highway Department at New Philadelphia.

The mayor forwarded the figures at the request of Earl W. Nelson, head of the division office. Nelson advised the mayor about two weeks ago that his investigation showed the city's proposal for the Lisbon St. improvement was "a worthwhile project."

Nelson asked the mayor to forward estimates of the cost in order that the state could add the Lisbon St. job to its list of future projects.

The city has proposed widening, resurfacing and a change of alignment to ease some of the curves on the grade between West End and Pleasant Heights.

Nelson's recent letter to Mayor Goodballet was a followup on an inspection the division official made during a trip to East Liverpool earlier in the year.

At that time, he looked over the route personally, also inspecting a stretch of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. that is in need of repair and looking over the Sunnyside area, where construction of a ramp has been proposed to link up two dead - end sections of W. 9th St.

The preliminary figures on the Lisbon St. improvement were drafted by Engineer George S. Bloomgren.

They show the largest single item would be for paving, with a base course costing about $7,228, a leveling course estimated at $5,600 and a two-inch asphaltic concrete surface costing $49,000. The estimate also calls for 400 lineal feet of new guardrail that would cost $1,600.

Radio Defect Hides Fate Of U.S. Climbers

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—A radio blackout hid the fate today of American climbers battling their way through bitter winds, icy footing and thin air up the treacherous final 1,300 feet of Mt. Everest.

The break in radio communications delayed word on whether the first American assault team had conquered the world's highest mountain. A report from the base camp said the weather made it unlikely that the 29,028-foot summit could have been reached Wednesday as scheduled.

An 18-man crew set up Camp Six at 27,800 feet Tuesday to prepare for a May Day assault on the summit. The snow-covered peak is less than a half-mile vertically from Camp Six but can be reached only by a longer, roundabout route.

The base camp said there had been no movement by the second and third assault parties Wednesday, an indication of turbulent weather on the heights.

Police Locate Stolen Truck In 13 Minutes

Thirteen minutes after a Maplewood truck theft was reported this morning, police had located the missing vehicle in an isolated spot more than a mile away and jailed a 29-year-old Newell area man found in the cab.

Ronald O'Neal Howell of Joetown was nabbed in Thompson Park by Patrolmen Howard Frontz and Orin C. Smith, charged with taking a 1950 model pickup owned by Leslie Carter Ash, 635 Blackmore St.

Patrolman Paul Carter received the theft report from Ash at 6:50 a. m. He transmitted the information to fellow officers on the midnight-to-8 a. m. shift. At 7:03, the truck was recovered and Howell was in custody, officers said.

Officer Frontz said he first searched the Maplewood area, looking for the missing truck. Then, acting on a hunch, he went to Thompson Park. He spotted the vehicle parked near No. 2 pavilion with the motor running.

In case the suspect fled, he radioed for help. Patrolman Orin C. Smith responded in another cruiser. The two officers closed in on the truck from opposite directions. They found Howell asleep in the cab. He offered no resistance.

Charges against Howell were dismissed at a preliminary hearing this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. He had pleaded not guilty.

The judge declared the prosecution had not introduced evidence to prove the truck was stolen. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark cited a signed report which the owner filed with police and which was made part of the prosecution's case.

The solicitor also requested a continuance to allow the prosecution to summon the truck's owner as a witness. However, the court then dismissed the afifidavit.

Early Ballot Issuance Will Close At 5 Today

Issuance of civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the primary elections Tuesday will close at 5 p. m. today at the County Election Board's office, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, reminded voters.

At mid-morning, the board had issued 173 of the "early" ballots. O'Hanlon said the number is about average for a municipal primary year. To be counted at the polls Tuesday, the ballots must be back in the board's hands by 1 p. m. Friday. The times are listed under Eastern Daylight Saving Time, although the board operates officially on Standard Time, as do all state offices.

The board also has issued 42 ballots under the "soldier voting law" to personnel of the armed forces and their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S. The "soldier ballots" may be issued until noon Saturday and may be voted in person until noon on Election Day.

Dominican Expected To Prolong Crisis

Bloody Repression Of Haiti Chief's Foes Feared As Probe Unit Departs

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Diplomats feared today that the departure from Haiti of an Inter-American investigating commission would be followed by new and bloody repression of President Francois Duvalier's political foes.

Concern also spread because Duvalier's regime had offered safe conduct out of the country for only 15 of 22 Haitians who took asylum in the Dominican Republic's Embassy during a weekend wave of terror. The Dominican government was expected to insist that all 22 be allowed to leave, prolonging the crisis between the two neighbors on the island of Hispaniola.

The six-nation mission from the Organization of American States planned to fly today to Santo Domingo, the Dominican capital, to discuss the question of the refugees with President Juan Bosch and continue its investigation.

Informed sources said the Haitian government was refusing to let alleged leaders of plots against Duvalier leave the country but was willing to allow those considered lesser conspirators to go.

Duvalier's government reportedly made a similar offer with regard to nearly 100 others who have taken refuge in the embassies of Brazil, Chile, Venezuela and Ecuador.

Duvalier raised the threat of new repressions in a speech Tuesday night to a rally of 10,000 supporters.

"Those who are uncertain about what to do had better put themselves on my side," he declared. "At the moment when it becomes necessary to go into the streets, I will go with presidential guards and popular forces.

"The machine will crush the opposition."

Tension and fear gripped Haiti's ramshackle capital.

Four explosions were heard in the Beau Boeuf section Tuesday night. Shortly after units of Duvalier's militia raced through the area and the sound of firing was heard.

More arrests were reported.

The home of Clement Barbot, a friend of Duvalier who broke with him and vowed to seek his overthrow, was put to the torch. Barbot was believed hiding inside the country.

The United States sent another protest to Duvalier, complaining that the American Embassy's first secretary was halted in his car Tuesday night. Guards forced him to stand with his hands raised in the glare of his car's headlights until he identified himself.

Duvalier's crackdown appeared aimed mainly at 64 army officers he dismissed last week. He reportedly believes they were to be the spearhead of a revolt.

In Santo Domingo, the Dominican foreign ministry issued a statement denying that Foreign Minister Andres Freites had told the OAS mission he had word of an offer by Duvalier to Fidel Castro's regime of bases in Haiti.

The foreign office said Freites instead told the OAS group that he had information Duvalier was offering bases to "anti-Castroites to provoke an attack or an irregular Castroite action from Cuba in Haiti."

Freites also had been quoted as charging that Duvalier had close ties with Communist nations and had entered into some sort of arrangement with Czechoslovakia.

The foreign ministry said with regard to that point that Freites had charged Duvalier has "been dealing with Iron Curtain countries in political and economic negotiations, the significance of which at the present moment is obvious."

The Associated Press, which had erroneously reported Freites' statements, was unable to obtain comment on the charges from Duvalier or other Haitian officials.

$130,019 Estimate Filed In Project For Route 267

Proposed improvement of Route 267 (Lisbon St.) between W. 8th St. and the city limits will cost approximately $130,019, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said in an estimate forwarded Wednesday to the Division 11 office of the State Highway Department at New Philadelphia.

The mayor forwarded the figures at the request of Earl W. Nelson, head of the division office. Nelson advised the mayor about two weeks ago that his investigation showed the city's proposal for the Lisbon St. improvement was "a worthwhile project."

Police Locate Stolen Truck In 13 Minutes

Thirteen minutes after a Maplewood truck theft was reported this morning, police had located the missing vehicle in an isolated spot more than a mile away and jailed a 29-year-old Newell area man found in the cab.

Ronald O'Neal Howell of Joetown was nabbed in Thompson Park by Patrolmen Howard Frontz and Orin C. Smith, charged with taking a 1950 model pickup owned by Leslie Carter Ash, 635 Blackmore St.

Patrolman Paul Carter received the theft report from Ash at 6:50 a. m. He transmitted the information to fellow officers on the midnight-to-8 a. m. shift. At 7:03, the truck was recovered and Howell was in custody, officers said.

Officer Frontz said he first searched the Maplewood area, looking for the missing truck. Then, acting on a hunch, he went to Thompson Park. He spotted the vehicle parked near No. 2 pavilion with the motor running.

In case the suspect fled, he radioed for help. Patrolman Orin C. Smith responded in another cruiser. The two officers closed in on the truck from opposite directions. They found Howell asleep in the cab. He offered no resistance.

Charges against Howell were dismissed at a preliminary hearing this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. He had pleaded not guilty.

The judge declared the prosecution had not introduced evidence to prove the truck was stolen. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark cited a signed report which the owner filed with police and which was made part of the prosecution's case.

The solicitor also requested a continuance to allow the prosecution to summon the truck's owner as a witness. However, the court then dismissed the afifidavit.

Early Ballot Issuance Will Close At 5 Today

Issuance of civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the primary elections Tuesday will close at 5 p. m. today at the County Election Board's office, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, reminded voters.

At mid-morning, the board had issued 173 of the "early" ballots. O'Hanlon said the number is about average for a municipal primary year. To be counted at the polls Tuesday, the ballots must be back in the board's hands by 1 p. m. Friday. The times are listed under Eastern Daylight Saving Time, although the board operates officially on Standard Time, as do all state offices.

The board also has issued 42 ballots under the "soldier voting law" to personnel of the armed forces and their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S. The "soldier ballots" may be issued until noon Saturday and may be voted in person until noon on Election Day.

The department was called to the Brookes building at 5th and Market Sts. at 12:03 p. m. to check on a possible overheated furnace.

Firemen said they found a thermostat on the second floor set at 80 degrees which caused the rooms on that floor and the basement to become too hot. The furnace was all right, they said.

Firemen were called to the home of Roscoe Hopkins, 606 Belmar Ave., at 8:28 a. m. when a clogged filter on a gas furnace allowed the furnace to overheat.

Meanwhile, a continuance has been granted until May 9 in the case of Rosetta M. Krafft of Park Way, cited April 20 by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way. She pleaded not guilty at arraignment last Friday and her hearing originally was set for today.

The department was called to the Brookes building at 5th and Market Sts. at 12:03 p. m. to check on a possible overheated furnace.

Firemen said they found a thermostat on the second floor set at 80 degrees which caused the rooms on that floor and the basement to become too hot. The furnace was all right, they said.

Firemen were called to the home of Roscoe Hopkins, 606 Belmar Ave., at 8:28 a. m. when a clogged filter on a gas furnace allowed the furnace to overheat.

The department was called to the home of Theron Downard, 112 E. 3rd St., at 8:10 this morning when a furnace control stuck and allowed it to overheat.

Wellsville Man Fined For Reckless Driving

William W. Bowers, 1207 Clover St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge.

Bowers was cited at 7:54 p. m. Wednesday on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, officers said. The patrolman reported he cited Bowers after observing him pass another car at the intersection of Pennsylvania Ave. and Wedgewood St. and then proceed along Pennsylvania Ave. at 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Meanwhile, a continuance has been granted until May 9 in the case of Rosetta M. Krafft of Park Way, cited April 20 by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way. She pleaded not guilty at arraignment last Friday and her hearing originally was set for today.

Recommendations For Mayor

There will be three-way races locally for mayor on both the Republican and Democratic tickets in next Tuesday's primary election.

The two men nominated by their respective parties will oppose each other in the Nov. 5 general election.

The Review offers the following recommendations:

Democrats

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet is seeking his third term. His opponents are Councilman Frank P. Duffy and Clifford J. Cooper, service station employe and former councilman.

Mr. Duffy, who vigorously has battled the controversial city income tax, is expected to provide Mr. Goodballet with his principal opposition.

Mr. Duffy's sincerity cannot be questioned. He has made his position clear on all key issues and has backed his beliefs to the fullest.

In our opinion, however, too much of his thinking has been marked by a negative approach which would fail to best advance the objectives so important to the municipality's future. Mr. Duffy has been quick to oppose, but not too quick with constructive suggestions.

Mayor Goodballet on the other hand, with few exceptions, has displayed the forward-looking attitude so essential to a progressive East Liverpool.

With the support of a capable and hard-working safety - service director and the majority of the present Council, he has the ball rolling in the right direction.

The Review, feeling that he should be given an opportunity to further pursue his program, strongly endorses Mr. Goodballet for renomination on Tuesday.

Republicans

The candidates are Merrill Hall, 219 Pennsylvania Ave., high school athletic director and former basketball coach who has been a teacher for 35 years;

William T. Kind, 216 Walnut St., a former councilman and operator of a coal company, and Frank F. Fluno Jr., 1025 Edgewood Ave., operator of a tax service and insurance agency.

Energetic leadership must be recognized as one of the prime requisites of a candidate for mayor.

While a newcomer to politics, Mr. Hall has demonstrated such leadership in various capacities during his many years as a teacher and as an athletic coach.

Mr. Fluno has been waging an active campaign and has made it clear that he is for the present city income tax and other measures he feels would be beneficial to East Liverpool.

However, in our judgment, neither he nor Mr. Kind would offer a leadership as effective as that of Mr. Hall.

The Review, therefore, recommends that Mr. Hall receive the nomination on the Republican ticket.

Is The Case Worth The Risk?

In old-time movies and present-day westerns, the chase is the main event. The camera flits from the pursued to the pursuer while listeners grow bug-eyed with suspense. Then comes the crash!

All very thrilling. Movies and television couldn't do without it.

Another kind of chase never would be missed if it never happened again. It's the kind that begins when a police car takes out after a car whose driver has excited suspicion. This driver frequently is a teenager.

The chase goes faster and faster, until pursued and pursuer may be hitting speeds up to 100 miles an hour. If this happens in a congested urban district, disaster is only seconds away. One of the two cars will get out of control. There will be a crash.

This happened in Cleveland March 19 when a teen-age driver was chased by a police car at high speed. The 16-year-old driver struck two moving vehicles, careened off the second, crashed through a garage, pushing the car inside through a brick wall and causing the garage to collapse on another car. The damage: $13,000. No one was killed.

The 16-year-old was playing hooky and had taken his father's car for a joyride. Even if he had been hauling hot cargo, would the chase have been worth the risk?

Is the chase ever worth the risk when it has not been established that the pursued has done anything wrong?

A Question On Security

The U.S. naval station at Guantanamo has been out of the news lately. But it never is out of the minds of people, coping with the Communist conspiracy to make Cuba an Old World pistol aimed at the New World from point-blank range.

Sooner or later, if the Soviet Union refuses to get out of Cuba, Guantanamo will be the fulcrum of the leverage to pry it out.

And sooner or later, the Soviet Union, if it stays in Cuba, will try to pry the United States out of Guantanamo. Its presence is not compatible with Soviet strategy — no more so than the Soviet presence in Cuba is compatible with U.S. security.

Guantanamo may be coming back into the news. Skeptical members of the House Armed Services Committee are wondering aloud if someone knows something they haven't been told in connection with a Defense Department proposal for beefing up U.S. defenses in Puerto Rico.

They are wondering if Puerto Rico's beefing up may have something to do with Guantanamo's possible "phasing out." If their suspicions are unworthy, they will apologize, but the skeptics say they will find out more about Guantanamo before they vote to spend more money to beef up Puerto Rico.

Is the United States preparing to "trade" it for something?

Better Stay With The Judges

A proposal to change the Ohio law about filling vacancies in the office of prosecuting attorney fails to satisfy a sensible requirement in this state.

The existing law says the Court of Common Pleas shall appoint a prosecutor if the office falls vacant.

The proposal for a change (Sub. H.B. 349) suggests that the central committee of the political party with which the last occupant of the office was affiliated should appoint a successor.

This is in line with the trend toward maintenance of political affiliation in the state's elective offices. It makes no sense that offices filled by popular vote can be turned over to the opposition party on the say-so of other elective officials if the office fall vacant.

But in the office of prosecuting attorney there is an unusual aspect:

Hitherto, vacancies have been filled by the Court of Common Pleas. This provision should be retained. Judges are more likely than central committeemen to choose competent prosecuting attorneys.

Nevertheless, it is desirable to maintain political continuity in offices filled by popular vote. Other elective officials have no right to upset popular decisions in this respect.

Therefore, why not let common pleas judges continue to make the selection, subject to the proviso that whoever is chosen must be affiliated with the same political party as his predecessor?

That should make everybody happy, shouldn't it?

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I can recall only one office-seeker of my acquaintance who leveled with taxpayers and told them they would have to pay for what they wanted him to give them free. He didn't last long.

There comes a time when a white-collar worker looks at his neckties and fails to find one that appeals to him. What with changes in style and the monotony of looking at the same ties day in and day out, year in and year out it's as bad as having rice pudding for dessert too often.

I never have heard a satisfactory explanation for the way newspapers decide what their policies should be, and the reason is plain. They cope with this problem in their individual ways, exactly as people who want to know how policy is determined would cope with it if they had the problem, instead.

The unexpectedness of the weather has so inured me to shocks and surprises that I paid no attention to snow on May Day—just looked at it and said nothing that could be printed in a family newspaper.

It is impossible for most of us to keep track of the missiles still with us, the ones on the drawing boards and the ones that have been phased out after vast sums of money had been spent on them. Those of us old enough to remember Big Bertha, the huge German gun that was going to revolutionize warfare in World War I, just think about that, instead. We wonder what became of Bertha.

The only time I regret being as skinny as the doctor would order me to become in a showdown such as my fat friends undergo when they have intimations of immortality is when a strong wind is blowing. Occasionally, I am lifted off my feet.

Having resumed pipe-smoking on an evening-only basis I am bemused by the variety of tobaccos available for this pungent pleasure and saddened by my inability to try them all, something like the frustration that develops when confronted with a heavily laden smorgasbord, or the lineup of goodies at a family reunion.

The gimmick in New Hampshire's legalizing of sweepstakes tickets is the proximity of metropolitan Boston, whose horse race buffs are going to be tapped. New Hampshire natives have been reading about foreign aid and are going to get it from Massachusetts.

Many women I see every day transform their appearance by rearranging their hair and also by changing its color. I have said this before and say it again that men should have the same option and will get it by the 21st century.

Reds Play Waiting Game With West

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ten years is just a moment in history — at least it looks that way to the Soviet government, which has used up a whole decade to carry on a series of aggressions in different parts of the world.

David Lawrence

The Communists in 1945 grabbed seven independent countries in Eastern Europe and half of Korea. They are still striving to get the other half. In 1953 they began to get control of North Viet Nam and now 10 years later they are in the process of taking over South Viet Nam as well as Laos.

They have their eyes on the Middle East and North Africa.

They have a foothold today in Cuba and are driving to establish similar bases in important countries in Central and South America.

Meanwhile, the West is disunited. Its quaking officials cry out, "Who wants a big war?" So they continue to negotiate for the peace that never comes.

It was in the year 1953, after the Korean armistice had been signed in July, that the then secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, said in a public speech to the American Legion convention:

"A single Chinese Communist aggressive front extends from Korea on the north to Indochina in the south . . . . in Indochina a desperate struggle is in its eighth year. The outcome affects our own vital interests in the Western Pacific, and we are already contributing largely in material and money to the combined efforts of the French and of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia. . . .

"Communist China has been and now is training, equipping and supplying the Communist forces in Indochina."

ON DEC. 29, 1953, this writer pointed out that the aggression had come in Indochina, which had been cut in two by a drive of the Communists, begun on Christmas Day.

By the spring of 1954, the Western powers had agreed to a conference at Geneva to discuss the unification of Korea as well as the Indochina problem. This correspondent went to Geneva to cover that conference.

"Peace," said secretary of State Dulles at the opening of the conference on April 28, "is always easy to achieve — by surrender. Unity is also easy to achieve — by surrender. The hard task, the task that confronts us, is to combine peace and unity with freedom."

It became obvious that France was not willing to internationalize the war over Indochina. The United States was naturally reluctant to do the job by itself. This correspondent wrote in July 1954:

"So now, with Red China in the process of virtually annexing North Korea in defiance of the U.N. resolution declaring her an aggressor and with a virtual annexation of the rich areas of Indochina, the Communist coalition is advancing to its biggest triumph. . . . it is an hour of great tragedy for the free world."

In that same year, on Sept. 10th, this correspondent wrote:

"Predictions were widely published in the press by realistic observers that, after the armistice(in Korea) was signed, the military energies of the Communists would be turned toward Indochina. Solemn warnings were issued by the United States government that this must not be permitted to go unchallenged if it happened.

"But the Communists disregarded all warnings and stepped up the war in Indochina. The French and British governments favored appeasement and left America isolated. When the Indochina armistice was signed, there was another wave of satisfaction expressed by the pollyanna spokesmen of governments that at last the world was going to see an end of fighting. . . .

"But the Communists haven't stopped fighting. They now have started another war — this time against Formosa.

"Again there is a disposition throughout the free world to minimize it as just a few raids in and around a few small islands."

SINCE THOSE DAYS, the situation in Formosa has periodically quieted down. Some American military forces are, however, still bogged down in the area and cannot leave it.

Substantial numbers of American armed forces are at the moment being concentrated in Southeast Asia. The Soviet game is to keep United States military strength scattered all over the world.

The setting up of a military base in Cuba was designed to publicize the threat to Latin America, which in turn will require a large concentration of America's armed forces in that part of the world, too.

The 1963 negotiations in Geneva with the Soviet government are really meaningless, as are the talks between Averell Harriman and Premier Khrushchev at Moscow.

The Soviets are not interested in seeing any agreements made or maintained. They keep on talking about agreement "in principle," but they do about as they please in violating pledges.

The weakness of the British and French in handling the Indochina problem has left a legacy of trouble for the free world. It has since become the financial and military responsibility of the United States to take care of Southeast Asia.

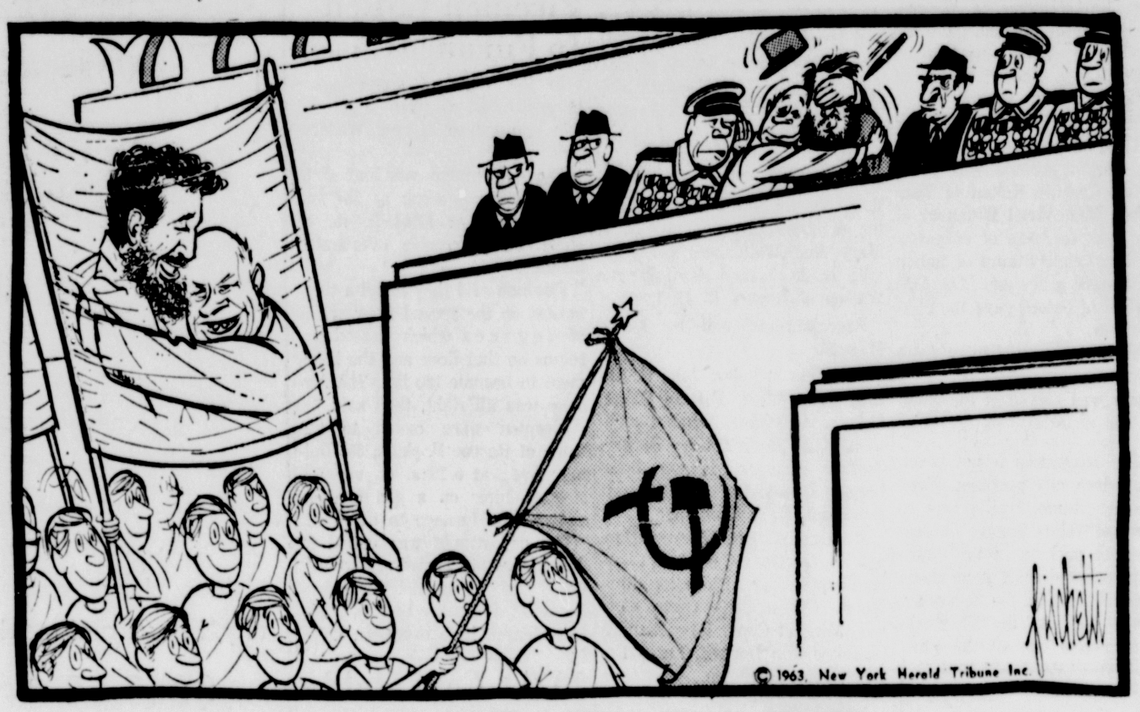

Already at least 80 Americans have lost their lives in the fighting around Laos and South Viet Nam.

The Eisenhower administration was severely criticized for not taking a firm stand with respect to Indochina but, without the cooperation of the British and French, it was not possible for the United States to go it alone.

THE TRUTH is the people in the Western world have seemed to care very little about what happens in Southeast Asia.

The relationship of this area to the Far East and to Red China's ascendancy has never been clearly appraised by the peoples of the West. Nor has it been realized that the continuous aggressions in Southeast Asia — endangering India and Pakistan — are part of the Communist plan of world conquest which could go on for a half-century.

The Communists aren't in a hurry. They feel they can wear out the West's will to resist.

Reuther Plans To Play Host For Congress

By VICTOR RIESEL

TO GIVE President Kennedy a hand with Congress, Walter Reuther is buying dinner for Republican leaders. They've not only been invited to dine with a host of labor chiefs, mostly out of the old CIO, but to speak as well as listen.

Victor Riesel

There will be plenty of Democrats, too. Reuther and his ebullient, militant, industry-needling lieutenant, Jim Carey, have ordered a big banquet in a fashionable Washington Hotel for the night of May 8 and have invited the entire membership of the Senate and House to be their guests. The dinner check will be picked up by labor's Industrial Union Dept. (IUD), now in a multi - million dollar organizing drive in five key sectors of the United States.

Reuther has asked the party leaders and whips in both Houses to speak that night before he does.

FOR THAT EVENING GOP House leader, Charles Halleck, will shift partners and work with Sen. Thomas Kuchel, Senate minority whip. For the majority there will be Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Rep. Carl Albert. If they talk as bluntly as Reuther plans to cut loose, it should be a warm evening.

Reuther has been in constant touch with the White House. John Kennedy has been urging the labor leaders to begin putting the pressure on Congress to get his program through. So on April 16, Reuther and Carey dispatched a letter to all presidents of unions in the Industrial Union Dept.

It has the razor-edged precision of Reuther at his organizing best:

"Congress thus far has shown very little disposition," said the Reuther-Carey missive, "to move forward with any speed and thrust. To highlight the urgency and need for greater federal legislative effort this session, we are calling our Industrial Union Dept. leadership together for an intensive day of Washington activities. . . ."

REUTHER AND CAREY then outlined a full 24 hours of pressure lobbying and meetings.

"We are asking all members of our IUD executive committee, executive board and legislative representatives and a limited number of other industrial union leaders from the various states to participate in these meetings.

"We urge your attendance at these important functions. It will provide an excellent opportunity to impress on the 88th Congress our sense of immediacy and urgency concerning the legislative goals of the AFL-CIO.

"Together we can help improve the current congressional climate."

It's fascinating to observe Reuther's passion for planning such operations. Mark this one well. It is the logistics chart for many similar lobbying forays up the Hill by other sections of labor.

In the memorandum to the industrial union chiefs, Reuther and Carey scheduled the following:

On Tuesday evening, May 7, at 8 p.m. there will be "active planning for the following day," and briefings "on the pertinent legislative issues."

There is time out for sleeping. But early on May 8, there will be "a series of state and regional breakfast meetings to be held with congressmen . . . from (the industrial union leaders') own states . . . (we) will utilize the opportunity to discuss legislative issues."

There will be some 15 state breakfast meetings and probably two regional gatherings for the Rocky Mountain States.

During the day there will be "visitations" by industrial union leaders to "specific congressmen . . . and political leaders . . ."

The day winds up with the mass dinner at 6 p.m. Reuther asked the Republicans as well as the Democratic chiefs to speak, and the GOP leaders agreed.

Reuther undoubtedly will argue for heavy government spending, the health care for the aged bill, tax cuts — especially in the low income brackets, etc. But the specifics for the moment are not important.

What will count that evening is the show of political strength — and respect for such strength by his political enemies and sharpest critics. It is not every evening that the entire Congress is invited out to dinner — and most plan to show up.

It's this strength, this political agility, this ability to mobilize forces that President Kennedy is counting on to impress the Congress. JFK has brought out his reserves.

Both Were Great

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Two men alive at the same time, Sir Winston Churchill and Woodrow Wilson, believed from their early years they were meant for greatness. Both were right.

Both were almost obsessed by belief in their power to sway men's minds. So both practiced oratory by the hour in their formative years, in their rooms and in the fields. In this both were right only part of the time.

Yet, it was in their use of the language of persuasion that Churchill and Wilson revealed the difference between them—in their nature and in their image in history.

They sought and found their fulfillment in politics. Wilson did it in eight years, Churchill in five, Wilson in World War I, Churchill in World War II.

Churchill, 88, feeble, in a wheelchair, announced Wednesday he would not seek re-election to the British Parliament where he had held a seat 61 years. He had actually been in politics every year of this century but for two years failed to get elected.

But because of his mistakes, temperament and bad judgment he was a political has been until in 1940 he was made prime minister. In the five years of the war he became one of the great figures in history.

The years before and afterwards were secondary.

He will be remembered as a warm, down-to-earth, very human man who, through his industructible will and the sunlit imagery of his language, expressed what millions felt but few could express.

When he led Britain against Germany everyone on earth could understand him, even the Germans, when he talked of fighting the Nazis on the hills and beaches and promised only blood, toil, tears and sweat.

Wilson died at 67 in 1924. He left the presidency of Princeton to become the governor of New Jersey from 1910 to 1912. From 1913 to 1921 he was president.

He did so well that last year a poll of 75 American historians listed him as one of the five great presidents. The others were Lincoln, Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Jefferson.

Unlike Churchill, who had spent most of his life thinking of international relations before he became prime minister, Wilson up to the time of his presidency and World War I had paid scant attention to foreign affairs.

No wonder he misread events when the war began. He was unprepared for them. He thought a neutral United States could stand aloof and be a mediator of the great dispute.

In the midst of that war, before the United States got in, Wilson translated his private self-righteousness into presidential moralizing in language that could never quicken the heart like Churchill's:

"There is such a thing as being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as a nation being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right."

He wouldn't let the belligerents step on American rights, he said, but he said it pompously: "We covet peace and shall preserve it at any cost but the loss of honor."

One step led to another until the United States was a belligerent, too.

But the great influences of Churchill and Wilson ended with their wars. When Warld War II ended, the British people threw Churchill out, and for an understandable reason. He was so taken up with the war, he had given no thought to postwar problems at home and therefore had no program. The people chose the Laborites who did.

Wilson, taken up with his League of Nations, thought little of the postwar problems, too. He toured the country and impressed the people with his oratory but he didn't impress his enemies in the Senate which wrecked his league idea.

46 Children Register

A total of 46 students are registered for the first grade classes at Chester Central School in the fall, Thayer Allison, principal, announced.

Additional registrations are expected to boost the total enrollment to 60, he said. About 28 parents attended a pre-school clinic Wednesday at the school.

Rep. Fine Calls For Adoption Of National Lottery

WASHINGTON (AP)—To Rep. Paul A. Fino, there's only one way to cut taxes, reduce the national debt, and still have enough money for schools, housing, disabled veterans, and health care: Adopt a national lottery.

But thus far the New York Republican's one-man fight—he calls himself the No. 1 advocate of a national lottery — has been stymied by what he calls hypocrisy and pussyfooting by Congress.

Fino, however, is a determined man and this week's signing of a state lottery bill by Gov. John N. King of New Hampshire has reinforced that determination.

"It breaks the ice in this country," Fino said in an interview. "There's no question that the New Hampshire action will have a tremendous impact on members of Congress. It will provide impetus for Congress to take a second look at the national lottery bill."

He introduced his first national lottery bill in 1953, the year he came to Congress. He has introduced similar bills every two years since.

"It's only a question of time before the government does something about it," Fino said. "The New Hampshire action is the catalyst that will get this thing going."

Fino contends a lottery would be the easy and painless way to raise $10 billion in additional revenue yearly because it would feed on the natural gambling urge of the American people.

Franklin Firemen's Trustees Clear Bills

SUMMITVILLE — Bills totaling $135 were paid at a meeting of trustees of the Franklin Township volunteer fire department Wednesday night.

Officials To Air Shadyside Work

A delegation of at least three city officials will go to Lisbon for a conference at 2 this afternoon with commissioners on a proposed joint municipal - county project for improvement of Shadyside Ave.

The city will be represented by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Engineer George S. Bloomgren. Councilman Edward Massey of the Fourth Ward also was scheduled tentatively to join the delegation, taking a half day off from his job at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Shadyside residents have requested widening and resurfacing of the street and possible elimination of some of the curves. The city asked the county for assistance because the road lies partly inside the corporate limits and partly in the unincorporated areas in the county's jurisdiction.

Steve Suchanec, roads chairman, said oiling of the roads will begin about the end of the month, and a financial report for the first quarter was given by Homer Paul, finance chairman. Next meeting is June 5.

Corvair Monza Club Coupe

Who needs muscles?

Do you know how easy it is to take a corner with a Corvair or park one? Turn this newspaper sideways and it will give you a pretty good idea. The wheel handles just that easily.

The Corvair's engine is in the rear, you see, for not only greater traction but more balanced weight distribution. And that's what makes the steering so completely effortless.

The engine is air cooled, too. No radiator. No water or antifreeze. No boiling over or freezing up to worry about. It takes the weather and the terrain as it comes.

Regents Bill Session Set

By William Vance
Review Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — House-Senate conferees were to meet today in their first serious attempt to iron out the dispute that has stalled action on the administration's bill to create an Ohio Board of Regents.

The education policy measure has passed both houses but was thrown into a six-member conference committee after the House refused to concur in Senate amendments.

Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Lima, Senate Education chairman and head of the conference committee, said Wednesday he is confident all issues can be resolved soon.

Others, however, are not so optimistic.

Horse Trading Tried

Apparently there will have to be some give and take on both sides to get the bill back before the House and Senate for final action. The members appear willing to do some horse trading but they don't agree on what to trade.

Conferees reached an agreement last week on several minor amendments but they were unable to get together on three key issues.

The central point of disagreement rests on the power the regents should have over state university degree programs. House members want the board to have absolute power of determination. Senators insist it should have only the power to recommend.

Discuss Eminent Domain

Also at issue are provisions permitting the board to extend the power of eminent domain to private universities with less than $12.5 million endowments and giving the House and Senate Education chairmen ex-officio posts on the board.

Eminent domain would give to universities the power to appropriate land they need, as governments and public utilities now may do.

Rep. Robert H. Longsworth, R-Carroll, House Education chairman, said he would be willing to go along with board membership for the chairmen if the Senate conferees would grant absolute degree powers to the board.

But all Senate conferees say they are determined to keep the degree provision as is.

Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-Sagamore Hills, a minority Senate conferee, said he is willing to accept the House demands to eliminate the chairman from the board in return for a concession on eminent domain.

Opposes Private Eminent Domain

He opposes giving eminent domain to any private university and is convinced that the $12.5 million cutoff is unconstitutional.

Longsworth and Rep. Harry Jump, R-Huron, want eminent domain for all private universities.

Pepple and Jump agree that the eminent domain and education chairman provisions are "relative minor issues" that should be resolved with no trouble. Other conferees, including Ocasek and Sen. Oakley Collins, R-Ironton, believe it will be weeks before a compromise will be reached.

Rep. Wray Bevens, D-Pike, the third House conferee, has been absent this week.

Barber To Open Shop Despite Sit-In Threat

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) —Lewis Gegner planned to open his barber shop today despite indications that student sit - ins against alleged racial discrimination would continue.

Gegner's shop was closed Wednesday after student demonstrators from Antioch College had crowded into his shop for two consecutive business days.

The protests resulted from Gegner's refusal to cut the hair of Negroes. He has been convicted by the Ohio Civil Rights Commission on a charge of discrimination in a place of public accommodation, but he has an appeal pending.

He said Wednesday night that he and his attorney have mapped new strategy but declined to say what it was.

The estimated world average rainfall is about 16 million tons of water per second.

Strike Slated By Mechanics

Although no date was set, Ceramic City Auto Mechanics Local 1019 Wednesday night confirmed a strike by voting against the last offer made by the East Liverpool Auto Dealers Association.

The dealers offered a flat rate contract which the union says it does not want. Under such a proposal, the men would work under an incentive program. The more work they did, the more money they would make, but when the shops were not operated fully, they would be cut back, it was explained.

The union will set the date later for the strike. The association has been notified of the action.

Richard Noble, district representative of the International Union, was present.

There are six garages covered under the agreement being sought. This represents about 26 to 28 of the union membership of about 70. The others work in garages of trucking firms and independent garages, under seperate contracts.

The union said the men are receiving $2.25 per hour now and are asking for a wage increase. They said they have not had a wage increase in almost five years, having worked under the same contract for four years.

Only those working in the garages operated by members of the Dealers Association will go on strike, according to Kenneth Schneidmiller, secretary. Tom Kelly is president.

Streets Patched For Wellsville

Patching of Wellsville streets with hotmix was resumed today.

The crew was to cover all of Buckeye Ave. and lower Main St., from 17th St. to Clark Ave.

Buckeye Ave. was improved last summer. It was graded, slagged and rolled after several coats of emulsion. It held up good during the winter months, but there are a few chuckholes that have to be filled in, Mayor William Daugherty said.

The old-fashioned push cart was being used on Main St. today from 9th St. down.

Painting also is continuing in the city's cleanup campaign, the mayor said.

White and yellow signs are being marked on streets at stop intersections.

A tractor-trailer truck loaded with lime arrived today for the filtration plant.

Ohio's High Court Does 'About Face'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court, in an about face from a decision it handed down last December, has upheld a state law giving municipal civil service commissions authority over non-teaching city school employes.

The ruling Wednesday resulted from a suit by Mary E. Karrick and seven other employes of the Findlay School District to determine their status. They went to court after failing to qualify for their jobs under new rules adopted by the Findlay Civil Service Commission.

Common Pleas Court ruled the new rules were invalid but an appellate court reversed. In a unanimous decision last Dec. 12, the Supreme Court affirmed but agreed to reconsider.

Wednesday's reversal said, among other things, that a section of the revised code provides for extension of civil service coverage to city school districts.

Judges Lynn Griffith, Paul Herbert and Rankin Gibson have taken seats on the bench since December and did not participate in the last year's decision.

The court rejected the appeal of Frank W. Gechter from his conviction in Elyria Municipal Court for violation of a North Ridgeville ordinance. He was convicted of violating an "assured clear distance" statute in a traffic accident. He was fined $25 and costs.

The Supreme Court agreed to consider the appeal of Dave Aron Jr. and Universal Underwriters Insurance Co. from a judgment by lower courts in Erie County.

The suit stemmed from the death of two boys hit by a car while riding bicycles May 16, 1958. Aron was test driving the car from the Hunter Co., an automobile dealer, in Perkins Twp. south of Sandusky. The dealer held an Underwriters' insurance policy and Aron was insured by Travelers Insurance Co., which paid the $10,000 limit in a suit by Mrs. Alice W. Moyer for the death of her 8-year-old son, Dwight. The mother sued for the balance of a $15,000 award. The other youngster was James Denbow, 10.

The Supreme Court let stand appellate court reversal that freed James Hempker on a charge of operating a grocery at 336 Scott St., Lima, in violation of Lima's zoning laws. The appeals court ruled that the 1962 reopening of the store, after adoption of the zoning restrictions, was not a violation because fixtures in the store had not been removed during the brief closing.

Lower court decisions denying Delores Kehrer damages from Patricia L. McKittrick—in a 1960 traffic accident in Lancaster—will be reviewed, the court decided. The damages were sought as a result of a collision at Sheridan Drive and East Fair Avenue in Lancaster.

Week-Day Tests Of Drivers Urged

Applicants for driver's licenses in Columbiana County have been requested to take tests on week days when possible to reduce the large volume of applicants at the Lisbon examiner's station on Saturdays.

"You can eliminate a long wait if you try to take the examination on some day other than Saturday," Sgt. Mallery advised prospective applicants.

The sergeant said it is expected the overcrowing on Saturdays will worsen during the summer.

Appointments may be made for tests by phoning Lisbon, HA. 4-5185.

Ohio's High Court Does 'About Face'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court, in an about face from a decision it handed down last December, has upheld a state law giving municipal civil service commissions authority over non-teaching city school employes.

The ruling Wednesday resulted from a suit by Mary E. Karrick and seven other employes of the Findlay School District to determine their status. They went to court after failing to qualify for their jobs under new rules adopted by the Findlay Civil Service Commission.

Common Pleas Court ruled the new rules were invalid but an appellate court reversed. In a unanimous decision last Dec. 12, the Supreme Court affirmed but agreed to reconsider.

Wednesday's reversal said, among other things, that a section of the revised code provides for extension of civil service coverage to city school districts.

Judges Lynn Griffith, Paul Herbert and Rankin Gibson have taken seats on the bench since December and did not participate in the last year's decision.

The court rejected the appeal of Frank W. Gechter from his conviction in Elyria Municipal Court for violation of a North Ridgeville ordinance. He was convicted of violating an "assured clear distance" statute in a traffic accident. He was fined $25 and costs.

The Supreme Court agreed to consider the appeal of Dave Aron Jr. and Universal Underwriters Insurance Co. from a judgment by lower courts in Erie County.

The suit stemmed from the death of two boys hit by a car while riding bicycles May 16, 1958. Aron was test driving the car from the Hunter Co., an automobile dealer, in Perkins Twp. south of Sandusky. The dealer held an Underwriters' insurance policy and Aron was insured by Travelers Insurance Co., which paid the $10,000 limit in a suit by Mrs. Alice W. Moyer for the death of her 8-year-old son, Dwight. The mother sued for the balance of a $15,000 award. The other youngster was James Denbow, 10.

The Supreme Court let stand appellate court reversal that freed James Hempker on a charge of operating a grocery at 336 Scott St., Lima, in violation of Lima's zoning laws. The appeals court ruled that the 1962 reopening of the store, after adoption of the zoning restrictions, was not a violation because fixtures in the store had not been removed during the brief closing.

Lower court decisions denying Delores Kehrer damages from Patricia L. McKittrick—in a 1960 traffic accident in Lancaster—will be reviewed, the court decided. The damages were sought as a result of a collision at Sheridan Drive and East Fair Avenue in Lancaster.

James Locke, head of the major business solicitation, and H. James Allison, co-chairman of the industrial solicitation, filed reports on the partial drive in their areas of the campaign for funds to provide scholarship aid to students entering college.

Firms and individuals providing $100 in the drive will have scholarships named after them.

Over $400 has been received so far in the Beaver Local canvass, and some followup work remains to be completed, Mrs. Veronica Wolski announced.

In Wellsville, about $300 has been collected with a number of reports still due. Jerry Russell, chairman, reported.

The Ogilvie contribution will be apportioned among the participating school districts, foundation officials said, as will other large contributions from firms or businesses serving the district or with employes from the district.

Plans for completing the fund drive and for awarding the scholarships will be made at a meeting of the foundation Tuesday night at Westgate School.

Week-Day Tests Of Drivers Urged

Applicants for driver's licenses in Columbiana County have been requested to take tests on week days when possible to reduce the large volume of applicants at the Lisbon examiner's station on Saturdays.

Sgt. E. W. Mallery of the Lisbon post said the examining station on W. Lincoln Way is open five days a week — Tuesday through Saturday.

"You can eliminate a long wait if you try to take the examination on some day other than Saturday," Sgt. Mallery advised prospective applicants.

The sergeant said it is expected the overcrowing on Saturdays will worsen during the summer.

Appointments may be made for tests by phoning Lisbon, HA. 4-5185.

Sixteen of 19 GOP candidates at the party primary Tuesday were introduced by Samuel B. Webber and spoke briefly. Three candidates for Council were unable to attend.

Pughtown Boy Scout Troop Plans Huntington Raft Trip

Boy Scout Troop 69 in Pughtown has planned an unusual trip on the Ohio River as part of their Centennial Year activity. They will leave July 14 on a journey by raft from Chester to Huntington.

Details of the project were announced today by Martin F. Fahey, Hancock county Centennial Committee chairman. Members of the troop and their parents are now building the raft and it will be launched June 15.

Scoutmaster of Troop 69 is Elmer Mercer of Chester, R. D. 1, who will be in charge of the voyage. He organized the troop in January 1962 with six boys and membership has now grown to 30. Mercer is an electrician in the tin mill of the Weirton Steel Co. with 15 years service.

The U. S. Coast Guard has approved the project and will supervise construction of the raft. It will be 20 feet square and will float on 12 steel drums. It will have safety ropes around the outside edges, a tarpaulin overhead for protection against sun and rain and a 15-horsepower motor to help control the craft.

Twelve to 18 boys and four adults will make the trip, Mercer said. They will travel in the daytime and camp on the river bank at night. The camping spots have already been chosen and several mothers will make the trip by car to cook breakfast and dinner for the scouts. One of the mothers is a registered nurse.

The trip will take about nine days. Each boy will have a complete physical examination before the trip, and he must be at least a second class scout and have a merit badge in swimming. Each boy on the raft will wear a life jacket.

Mercer said all the material for the raft has been donated except the drums. He acknowledged the help the East Liverpool YMCA has given the project.

He added that about 1,200 feet of motion picture film will be "shot" during the trip, giving the troop a permanent record of the event. Troop 69, in the Weir - Cove District of Fort Steuben Area Council, is sponsored by the Pughtown fire department.

Program Of Aiding Elderly Planned For Next Summer

LISBON — The Lisbon community will be the test area for two projects to help older people, which planners expect to initiate this summer.

Services to be offered are homemaker help and friendly visitors, according to Mrs. Raymond Stiver of Salem, Columbiana County co-ordinator for the Ohio Commission on Aging.

She outlined her plans here twice this week — Wednesday for the Lisbon Ministerial Association, and Tuesday night for the County Health and Safety Council.

Mrs. Stiver said the program will be set up largely with the help of the churches. Ministers know who can supervise the program in their communities and who can benefit by it, she remarked.

She asked the ministerial association to suggest names for a Lisbon community chairman for each service. Mrs. Stiver said Lisbon was selected as a pilot area because of its central location and because lists of older persons in need of help are available at the Aid for Aged and Welfare Department offices, both located in the county seat.

Once the pilot area has had enough cases to iron out some of the problems, the services will be extended to other areas until the program is countywide, Mrs. Stiver said.

She and other volunteers planning the program have divided the county into six areas. Eventually each will have its own homemaker and friendly visitor chairmen and teams. Homemaker helpers will receive pay but all other services will be volunteer.

Mrs. Stiver, who organized and still supervises the Salem Senior Citizens Club, is devoting all her free time to the program for the elderly.

Her volunteer staff for the new project includes Miss Katherine Gibson of Salem, executive secretary; Mrs. Carl McConner of Salem, county chairman for homemaker services, and Mrs. John McLain of East Liverpool, county chairman for friendly visitors.

Nixon Reported On Planning To Join New York Law Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — Frmer Vice Preident Richard M. Nixon was reported today to be planning to join a Manhattan law firm and move his residence to New York.

Nixon, asked about the report, said he was in the city to discuss private matters, but that nothing has been decided now.

He added that "When decisions aren't made, you don't say anyting."

Earlier, Walter Cronkite said on his Columbia Broadcasting System news program that Nixon would join the law firm of Mudge, Stern, Baldwin and Todd and that a realty firm had been asked to find a New York home for Nixon and his family.

The law firm had no immediate comment.

Nixon told newsmen he had dinner Wednesday night with William P. Rogers, the former attorney general, and then smilingly noted that Rogers was associated with a New York law firm. The firm is Royall, Koegel & Rogers.

He denied, however, that he had any intention of using New York as a political base.

"As for using New York as a political base or interjecting myself into local politics, you may quote me as saying emphatically it is not so," Nixon said.

There have been reports for several weeks that Nixon, who was defeated last year in the California gubernatorial race, might establish his residence in New York.

LaCroft Firemen Seek Members

A plea for new members and a warning to present members to attend meetings or be dropped from the department were issued at a meeting of the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department Wednesday night at the LaCroft station.

Homer Cronin, president, said any LaCroft area man desiring to join the department may contact a present member.

With only 12 attending last night's session, Cronin urged all members to attend a training meeting next Wednesday night. Unless they have an acceptable reason, those who do not attend will be asked to turn in their badges, he said.

Plans for the annual carnival starting May 27 were discussed.

Cronin said work on erection of a fire tower at the station will be resumed Saturday at 8 a. m.

Next business meeting is May 15.

A 26-year-old New Cumberland area man was in "satisfactory" condition today in Weirton General Hospital with injuries suffered early this morning when his car went over an embankment and rolled over several times at the south end of the Hancock County seat.

Edmund Karpinski suffered lacerations and complained of pelvic injuries. He was to be X-rayed today.

New Cumberland Chief William Webster said Karpinski failed to negotiate the "S" curve about 1:15 a. m. with the car going over the embankment.

Pughtown Boy Scout Troop Plans Huntington Raft Trip

Boy Scout Troop 69 in Pughtown has planned an unusual trip on the Ohio River as part of their Centennial Year activity. They will leave July 14 on a journey by raft from Chester to Huntington.

Details of the project were announced today by Martin F. Fahey, Hancock county Centennial Committee chairman. Members of the troop and their parents are now building the raft and it will be launched June 15.

Scoutmaster of Troop 69 is Elmer Mercer of Chester, R. D. 1, who will be in charge of the voyage. He organized the troop in January 1962 with six boys and membership has now grown to 30. Mercer is an electrician in the tin mill of the Weirton Steel Co. with 15 years service.

The U. S. Coast Guard has approved the project and will supervise construction of the raft. It will be 20 feet square and will float on 12 steel drums. It will have safety ropes around the outside edges, a tarpaulin overhead for protection against sun and rain and a 15-horsepower motor to help control the craft.

Twelve to 18 boys and four adults will make the trip, Mercer said. They will travel in the daytime and camp on the river bank at night. The camping spots have already been chosen and several mothers will make the trip by car to cook breakfast and dinner for the scouts. One of the mothers is a registered nurse.

The trip will take about nine days. Each boy will have a complete physical examination before the trip, and he must be at least a second class scout and have a merit badge in swimming. Each boy on the raft will wear a life jacket.

Mercer said all the material for the raft has been donated except the drums. He acknowledged the help the East Liverpool YMCA has given the project.

He added that about 1,200 feet of motion picture film will be "shot" during the trip, giving the troop a permanent record of the event. Troop 69, in the Weir - Cove District of Fort Steuben Area Council, is sponsored by the Pughtown fire department.

Program Of Aiding Elderly Planned For Next Summer

LISBON — The Lisbon community will be the test area for two projects to help older people, which planners expect to initiate this summer.

Services to be offered are homemaker help and friendly visitors, according to Mrs. Raymond Stiver of Salem, Columbiana County co-ordinator for the Ohio Commission on Aging.

She outlined her plans here twice this week — Wednesday for the Lisbon Ministerial Association, and Tuesday night for the County Health and Safety Council.

Mrs. Stiver said the program will be set up largely with the help of the churches. Ministers know who can supervise the program in their communities and who can benefit by it, she remarked.

She asked the ministerial association to suggest names for a Lisbon community chairman for each service. Mrs. Stiver said Lisbon was selected as a pilot area because of its central location and because lists of older persons in need of help are available at the Aid for Aged and Welfare Department offices, both located in the county seat.

Once the pilot area has had enough cases to iron out some of the problems, the services will be extended to other areas until the program is countywide, Mrs. Stiver said.

She and other volunteers planning the program have divided the county into six areas. Eventually each will have its own homemaker and friendly visitor chairmen and teams. Homemaker helpers will receive pay but all other services will be volunteer.

Mrs. Stiver, who organized and still supervises the Salem Senior Citizens Club, is devoting all her free time to the program for the elderly.

Her volunteer staff for the new project includes Miss Katherine Gibson of Salem, executive secretary; Mrs. Carl McConner of Salem, county chairman for homemaker services, and Mrs. John McLain of East Liverpool, county chairman for friendly visitors.

Nixon Reported On Planning To Join New York Law Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — Frmer Vice Preident Richard M. Nixon was reported today to be planning to join a Manhattan law firm and move his residence to New York.

Nixon, asked about the report, said he was in the city to discuss private matters, but that nothing has been decided now.

He added that "When decisions aren't made, you don't say anyting."

Earlier, Walter Cronkite said on his Columbia Broadcasting System news program that Nixon would join the law firm of Mudge, Stern, Baldwin and Todd and that a realty firm had been asked to find a New York home for Nixon and his family.

The law firm had no immediate comment.

Nixon told newsmen he had dinner Wednesday night with William P. Rogers, the former attorney general, and then smilingly noted that Rogers was associated with a New York law firm. The firm is Royall, Koegel & Rogers.

He denied, however, that he had any intention of using New York as a political base.

"As for using New York as a political base or interjecting myself into local politics, you may quote me as saying emphatically it is not so," Nixon said.

There have been reports for several weeks that Nixon, who was defeated last year in the California gubernatorial race, might establish his residence in New York.

July 4th Group Meets

'Let Freedom Ring' Wins As Midland Fete Theme

"Let Freedom Ring," has been selected as the winning entry in the contest sponsored in area high schools by the Midland 4th committee for a celebration theme.

Miss Christine Tepovich, 14, a ninth grade student at Midland High School, was named as winner at a meeting of the committee Tuesday night in the Borough Building. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tepovich, 1935 Delaware Ave., Midland.

She will receive a $25 Savings Bond on July 4th and will be an honorary parade marshal and ride with Mayor Eli G. Corak. A Wellsville senior was last year's winner.

The committee selected her theme since it corresponds with an idea being fostered nationally that towns, beginning this July 4th, should ring their bells each year on the holiday.

The committee also announced parade prizes totaling $730, including $520 in the general or senior float class and $210 for floats of youth organizations. The $15 for humorous entries was dropped.

Prizes include eight for adult floats, $100, $90, $80, $70, $60, $50, $40 and $30, and four for youth floats, $75, $60, $45 and $30. They are the same as last year. Boy and Girl Scouts and other marching groups are eligible for prizes.

Now that the theme and prizes have been selected, organizations in the Tri-State area were urged to begin planning their floats. Entry blanks will be available soon at the borough secretary's office for clubs, organizations and individuals entering floats, marching groups and other units.

The deadline for entries will be June 25. The committee seeks additional floats this year in order to balance out the number of bands expected. Organizations entering floats last year will be mailed entry forms.

The committee also urged area residents, mill employes, organizations, clubs, stores and taverns to participate in the committee's annual solicitation of $1 donations to finance the celebration. The citizen's committee pointed out that each year's funds are used up and very little is carried over.

The entertainment will include the huge parade, concerts, children's races, drill team competition, fireworks and street dance. The celebration annually attracts thousands of spectators from the Tri-State area.

Steve Trbovich, finance officer, said the solicitation is under way at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and that other industries will be contacted.

The Midland Area Chamber of Commerce will assist and Harry Hulton was appointed business solicitation and decorations chairman. He will handle the solicitation of clubs and taverns.

The committee deferred hiring of entertainment and held up plans for the afternoon program until the amount of funds available will be known.

Charles P. Henderson, special events chairman, said that possibly 17 musical units will be in this year's parade. He said two are of high schools which did not enter previously.

Capt. William MacBurney said he is contacting firms for aerial fireworks.

Mayor Eli Corak, general chairman, presided. Next meeting is May 14 at 7:30 p. m. at the Borough Building.

Sen. Clark To Speak Against Neff Slate

BEAVER — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D., Pa., said at Washington the segment of the Democratic party in Beaver County headed by Sam Neff has been calling the slate of candidates it will submit to the voters at the May 21 primary, "The Senator Clark Reform Ticket."

To punish such audacity, the senator will speak Sunday at a fund-raising dinner of the regular Democratic Organization in Beaver. He said he will try to persuade Beaver County voters to support the slate headed by Commissioners Eli G. Corak and James E. Ross and including district attorney candidate Robert J. Masters.

Scott Creelman, Dartmouth football captain, has played in 26 consecutive winning football games.

Backward Glances Into The Future

There is no end to the fascinations of looking ahead into a new television season. It certainly beats watching television, anyhow. (The coming attractions are always a lot more fun than the five-hour movie you came to see, aren't they?)

Alan Gill

For one of the headier fascinations, take the problem of program length. This season NBC established a trend toward the swollen-gland school of TV programming with its 90-minute Western, "The Virginian," and I'm afraid this malady will have to run its bloated course before we get our TV shows back down to sensible size.

-:-

ABC IS FATTENING "Wagon Train" out to 90 minutes in the fall, will introduce a back-to-back 90-minute combination of cops-and-robbers ("Arrest") and cross-examination ("Trial") and a 120-minute stretch of Jerry Lewis.

And if "Hootenanny" hangs on, there's much talk that it will go to an hour, which I'm sure would be the death of it.

The networks entered the 1962-63 season in their 7:30-to-11 prime-time hours with 37 programs on CBS, 31 on ABC and 29 on NBC.

CBS, by far the most successful of the networks both artisically and financially, obviously is a firm believer in the 30-minute hour and has thrived on it.

Nevertheless, CBS is going into 1963-64 with fewer half-hour shows. It will have 33 prime-time programs, while ABC has 29 and NBC 25.

-:-

ABC'S ATTITUDE toward program length is increasingly a puzzlement — and not just because of the "Hootenanny" and Jerry Lewis set ups. The network seems to keep the entertainment shows which function best in 60 minutes — and I mean shows like Sid Caesar's and Edie Adams'— within the 30-minute strait jacket; then it pads out its only successful Western, the durable "Wagon Train," which even now mosies along at a rather sedate pace in its 60-minute format.

Sunday night will be a big one for both CBS ("The Judy Garland Show") and ABC (a whole new roster, running from "Jamie McPheeters" and "Arrest and Trial" to the big new giveaway show, "100 Grand," and the "F.DR." series).

On Wednesday nights, CBS will run a considerable gamut—"CBS Reports," the Glynis Johns comedy-mystery, "Beverly Hillbillies," "The Dick Van Dyke Show," and the new "Danny Kaye Shol"— while NBC puts all its chips on three adventure programs, "The Virginian" (90-minute Western), "Espionage" (60-minute spy thriller), and "Eleventh Hour" (60-minute trauma-drama).

-:-

AFTER THE RATHER somber stretches of Thursday and Friday nights, Saturday night promises a few pleasures.

On ABC: "Hootenanny," followed by "Lawrence Welk" and "Jerry Lewis," if they are your idea of mad, mad fun.

And over at CBS: "Jackie Gleason," the new "Phil Silvers," "The "Defenders" and "Gunsmoke."

NBC, on the other hand, simply will have to make do with "The Lieutenant," "Joey Bishop" and the movies — a shabby lineup that may win out in the ratings after all.

"Dr. Kildare" will have rather smooth sailing in the ratings, come fall (it's got the various time segments of "My Three Sons," "The Jimmy Dean Show," "Rawhide" and "Perry Mason" to contend with); but "Ben Casey" will be confronted with "Beverly Hillbillies," "Dick Van Dyke" and "Espionage" — possibly the toughest odds young Ben has yet faced in his sanguinary career.

-:-

I'LL ALSO be interested in the Monday night ratings — how ABC's new science-fiction program, "Beyond Control," fares against the Goodson-Todman fleet over at CBS ("To Tell the Truth" and "I've Got a Secret") and NBC's movies.

Then, immediately thereafter, how will its "Wagon Train" stack up against the "Lucy"-"Danny Thomas"-"Andy Griffith" comedy phalanx?

Finally, at evening's end, who'll win out — a psychiatrist ("Breaking Point"), a social worker ("East Side, West Side") or Mitch Miller?

Put your money away, Junior. Don't turn your back on that bristling new lineup of ABC's.

The NBC stable may be down with glanders but don't count them out.

And as for CBS — well, they look so good from this distance that something must be wrong.

As my mother always said, "Don't bet, Son, on ponies, prize fights, dice games, Broadway musicals or television programs. They're all fixed."

Keep In Trim

Exercise Helps Dieter 'Come Alive'

Swing into spring with exercise. The best possible reducing program is to team diet and exercise together. Exercise tones the muscles, stops the sagging and helps you to burn calories.

Ida Jean Kain

Dieters, if you cannot lose on 1,000 calories a day for women, and 1,400 calories a day for men, do not cut lower. Calorie burning is the result of energy expended, so a semi-starvation diet defeats your purpose. Sloth sets in, you practice economy of energy and use fewer and fewer calories.

However, an even more important reason for not cutting calories too low is this: The way foods are built it takes a certain number of calories to furnish the protective nutrients necessary to safeguard you health.

In a reducing program, exercise marks the difference between unexpected success and repeated failure.

HOW MUCH outdoor exercise do you get routinely? Physicians point out that the common feeling of fatigue and tension is often due to a lack of outdoor activity. A walk of a mile or two a day can pull you out of the doldrums into euphoria!

Here's a suggestion for members of reducing clubs — spend 20 minutes of your meeting time out walking.

If you belong to a gym and swim regularly — wonderful. Swimming uses all the little and big muscles. What about exercise machines? Those that put the muscles through their paces are helpful. Machines do not get bored.

What role do calisthenics play in reducing? Think of calisthenics as shapeups and you get the picture. Fifteen minutes a day of stretch, side - bends and leg swinging against resistance work slimming miracles. Hold the muscle contraction to a slow count of six — to increase muscle tone.

For that extra fillip of fine feeling, put on your walking shoes and find out how spring is coming along.

Exercise Helps Dieter 'Come Alive'

Swing into spring with exercise. The best possible reducing program is to team diet and exercise together. Exercise tones the muscles, stops the sagging and helps you to burn calories.

Ida Jean Kain

Dieters, if you cannot lose on 1,000 calories a day for women, and 1,400 calories a day for men, do not cut lower. Calorie burning is the result of energy expended, so a semi-starvation diet defeats your purpose. Sloth sets in, you practice economy of energy and use fewer and fewer calories.

However, an even more important reason for not cutting calories too low is this: The way foods are built it takes a certain number of calories to furnish the protective nutrients necessary to safeguard you health.

In a reducing program, exercise marks the difference between unexpected success and repeated failure.

HOW MUCH outdoor exercise do you get routinely? Physicians point out that the common feeling of fatigue and tension is often due to a lack of outdoor activity. A walk of a mile or two a day can pull you out of the doldrums into euphoria!

Here's a suggestion for members of reducing clubs — spend 20 minutes of your meeting time out walking.

If you belong to a gym and swim regularly — wonderful. Swimming uses all the little and big muscles. What about exercise machines? Those that put the muscles through their paces are helpful. Machines do not get bored.

What role do calisthenics play in reducing? Think of calisthenics as shapeups and you get the picture. Fifteen minutes a day of stretch, side - bends and leg swinging against resistance work slimming miracles. Hold the muscle contraction to a slow count of six — to increase muscle tone.

For that extra fillip of fine feeling, put on your walking shoes and find out how spring is coming along.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death of 22 men in a mine explosion at Clinchfield Coal Co.'s No. 2 operation near Clarksburg, W. Va. last Thursday and a Pennsylvania mine disaster that took 37 lives last December have prompted President Kennedy to call for a review of mine safety practices.

Kennedy directed Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall Wednesday to review safety regulations in cooperation with state officials "to insure that inspection and compliance procedures are applied rigorously," in all mine operations.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what to do. A certain man in town has exactly the same name as my husband—middle initial and all. This man always is getting his name in the newspaper.

Last year he was arrested twice for traffic violations. In January he was arrested for disorderly conduct. (He got into a fight with a motorist who took his parking place.) Last week he ran a personal ad saying he was not responsible for his wife's debts. Our friends are having a picnic needling us and we are plenty burned up.

The newspaper prints his address but we don't think it's enough. We are active Republicans and happen to know this man is a Democrat. Don't you feel the paper should be willing to identify him as "Mr. XY, the Democrat" so there will be less confusion? In our opinion it's the least the paper can do to save us embarrassment. Please comment.—GOOD NAME RUINED.

Dear Ruined: The address makes it clear to those who know you that your husband is not the XYZ referred to. Those who don't know you are not interested.

Anniversary Date

Dear Ann: My parents had a beautiful marriage for 34 years. On the date of their wedding anniversary my brothers and I always sent a gift and took the folks to dinner at the elegant hotel where their romance started. (Mom was a waitress there and pop worked in the kitchen.)

Pop died five months ago. The anniversary date comes up in a few weeks. Should we continue the practice of sending a gift? And should we take Mom to dinner at the hotel, as we always have?

One of my brothers says we should carry on, as before. My other brother says we should let the day pass and do nothing. I don't know what would be best for Mother, so I'm writing for advice. What do you say?—NOT DECIDED.

Dear Not Decided: Don't send a gift to commemorate the anniversary of a marriage which has been terminated by death. And ignoring the date would not be wise either, because you can be sure your mother will not be ignoring it.

Take her to dinner at a new place, somewhere she never has been before. Going back to the hotel without your father may be a very trying experience for her.

Double-Crossed

Dear Ann: I'm 17 and dating a very nice college freshman. My cousin Rozella, who is my age, has trouble getting dates. My mother keeps insisting that I help her. Rozella isn't very bright and I can see why she doesn't attract fellows.

Last weekend I asked my boy friend to get Rozella a date to a campus hop. He dug up some guy from Boston and it was all set. We were supposed to double, but they broke away toward the end of the evening and went on their own.

The next morning Rozella's mother called my mother and gave her an earful. She said Rozella got home at 4 a.m., dead drunk and her clothes in a mess. My aunt blames me for dating her with "a no-good bum." I am sick about this because my mother and aunt say it's all my fault. Is it?—NO THANKS.

-:-

Dear Thanks: A 17-year-old girl who has trouble with one of the simplest and shortest words in the English language should not be going out with boys.

You are not responsible for what happened to Rozella. Most boys will take whatever is offered plus whatever they can talk a girl into. From here on out let Rozella dig up her own dates.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear HELOISE: Oh, how I love you for telling us how to use ammonia in the oven . . . and especially to plug up the vents. . . but . . why stop there?

Put your burner rings and drip pans on the oven shelves at the same time and they too will wash clean in a wink:

I also put any muffin pans or other baking dishes on these same oven shelves and utilize the same time and energy. Wonderful.

KATHY WRIGHT.

DEAR LADIES: For those who missed it, here's how we told you to clean an oven:

We have tried many methods and have found two excellent ones. Our first preference is to fold a bath towel in fourths or sixths and lay it on a rack in the oven. I wet the bath towel with water first and wring it out thoroughly.

Then pour a cup or two of ammonia over this bath towel. Plug up the vents in your oven with wet paper towels, damp wash cloths, or a wet hand towel. We found damp sponges even better for some type vents.

-:-

THE REASON for plugging up the vents is that we have found that the little elf who does the dirty work in that oven and gets all of that carbon and soil from the sides and shelves is done by the fumes of the ammonia itself. So . . . we keep these fumes in the oven without letting them escape through the vents.

We also found, this can be left overnight or four or five hours. Wash as usual with a vinegar and water solution.

And gals, when we say a vinegar and water solution it means take a potful of warm water with about a fourth-cup vinegar in it.

You also can clean the oven by taking a spray bottle of the type used in window cleaning and filling it with a solution of one-half ammonia and one half water. Then spray the walls of your oven and close the door quickly. Still cover up the vents.

This method should be used very carefully — ammonia is very dangerous.

Do not leave this bottle sitting around where children can get into it. Read the caution label on your bottle of ammonia.

—:—

IF YOU REALLY have the spirit and want the doggone thing perfect, have the time and a wash tub . . here's an easier way:

Remove anything and everything that will come loose from the oven—and while you are at it . . . all the parts from the top of the stove, the drip pans etc. and put them in your tub.

Turn on the hot water faucet and let the tub start to fill up with water. While it's filling, go to your kitchen and get that box of detergent .. . the type you use to wash clothes!

Dump about two cups of detergent in the still-running hot water. The water will mix the detergent for you. Let the water run until it completely covers all the dirty parts.

Walk out of the room and forget it!

-:-

THE NEXT morning, (or six hours later, if you are in a hurry) you will find all the residue absolutely floating on top of the water!

All it takes then is a little vegetable brush and a few minutes of your time to brush off remaining particles.

First: Pull the plug from the tub. Fill a small bowl with soapy water. (I put the bowl in my tub.) Turn on the faucet again. Scrub the parts with the brush and hot water and suds. Rinse under the faucet!

I place a bath towel on the floor and as each piece is washed and rinsed, I stand them up against the wall on the bath-towel and let them drain. This saves dripping water through the house . . . or wiping them dry with a sponge and towel.

-:-

THE TRICK about this idea is that you will get rid of all those carbon spots which are in the crevices of the oven racks (especially in the corners) without breaking a fingernail or wasting hours of valuable time.

It's a good feeling to have a clean oven. And while you are at it . . . if you have an oven with a glass "peek-hole," remove that (just unscrew the little screws) and plop it into the magic cleaner too.

Probation Given Salem Resident

LISBON — A Salem resident has been placed on two years probation by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of three Salem minors.

Thomas Ferris, 56, operator of a "hot rod" shop, was also fined $150 and costs and sentenced to six months in the County Jail.

The sentence was suspended providing he refrains from gambling in his shop and does not allow any person under 18 to loiter on his premises.

He was cited to Juvenile Court after police caught him and the three youths playing poker in his shop Saturday evening. He also paid a fine of $100 and costs assessed by Mayor Dean Cranmer of Salem for gambling.

He must dispose of a pinball machine which he allegedly paid off in free games won by minors, court authorities said.

Meeting Postponed

LISBON — A meeting that had been planned Wednesday noon to consider a proposal for a centralized office for charity organizations was postponed because representatives of only three groups showed interest, according to the Rev. George Sweeney of Columbiana, chairman.

A baseball box score for one team can be proved thusly: Add at bats, sacrifices, bases on balls and hit by pitcher. These should equal the runs scored, left on base and opponents' put-outs.

Ceramic Society Hears Physicist

The American Ceramic Society entered its closing sessions today at Pittsburgh after an address Wednesday by a University of Cincinnati physicist who discussed making a house of solid brick without mortar.

Dr. Isay Balinkin proposed that bricks be mortared by a high-energy light beam called a laser.

Balinkin said lasers — which squirt fantastically powerful light rays the way a hose squirts water—could weld ceramic materials traditionally considered non-fusible.

He also said laser beams could cut decorations into ceramic surfaces and could remove tiny portions of contaminating materials for analysis.

The society's annual convention began Saturday at the Hilton Hotel with 2,800 registered.

Wellsville Kaycees Announce Delegates

Delegates and alternates to the state convention May 26-27 at Columbus were elected at a meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night.

Named were James McPeak, grand knight, and John Kozora, delegates, and Joe Giuliani and John Cataldo, alternates.

Kozora reported the remodeling work of the home has been completed but said further repairs are necessary.

McPeak reported on the social held Saturday night. Movies were screened on baseball.

Broker Remains In Jail Following His Arraignment

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Robert K. Domer, Canton mortgage investment broker, remains in jail without bond after being arraigned and pleading innocent to one Stark County charge and two federal counts.

Domer, 43, has been in custody since Sunday when deputies arrested him at his fashionable home. The body of a still unidentified man was found April 23 in a burning automobile owned by Domer, who had disappeared mysteriously for a month. An autopsy is being conducted in Cleveland.

Domer waived a preliminary hearing Wednesday on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and making false statements to a federal agency. He was bound over to the federal grand jury in Cleveland.

Earlier, Domer pleaded innocent to a forgery charge. Trial was set for May 27, but no details of the charge have been made public.

Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman has said he will present facts in the death of the man found in the flaming auto to a grand jury here Friday. Putman has said that Domer "will not be released."

CAP To Resume Hunt For Plane Carrying Three

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol planned today to resume search for a single-engine plane carrying three Virginia men that disappeared Monday on a flight from Marion, Ind., to Franklin, Va.

CAP officers said the search would center in the Southern Ohio area the yellow-and-white Beechcraft Bonanza would have passed over Monday afternoon. The plane's course would have taken it through several areas of rough weather.

The plane carried officers of the Trego Stone Co. on their way home from inspecting a stone crushing plant near Marion. The pilot was James Carter of Franklin. His passengers were R. L. Tulloh, Emporia, and H. B. Brown, Skippers.

A search plane spotted plane wreckage near Williamsburg, east of Cincinnati, Wednesday afternoon and aroused hopes the plane had been found. But the wreckage proved to be that of a Cincinnati doctor's Beechcraft that crashed in 1959.

Campaign For Funds Above Expectation

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — The Mercury Employes and Boosters Association, composed of workers and families stationed at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site, decided there was a need for reliable ambulance service in the vast Southern Nevada desert.

The fund drive for a regular ambulance service was more successful than members had hoped. The association got enough to make arrangements for airplane ambulance service for communities throughout the isolated area.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what to do. A certain man in town has exactly the same name as my husband—middle initial and all. This man always is getting his name in the newspaper.

Last year he was arrested twice for traffic violations. In January he was arrested for disorderly conduct. (He got into a fight with a motorist who took his parking place.) Last week he ran a personal ad saying he was not responsible for his wife's debts. Our friends are having a picnic needling us and we are plenty burned up.

The newspaper prints his address but we don't think it's enough. We are active Republicans and happen to know this man is a Democrat. Don't you feel the paper should be willing to identify him as "Mr. XY, the Democrat" so there will be less confusion? In our opinion it's the least the paper can do to save us embarrassment. Please comment.—GOOD NAME RUINED.

Dear Ruined: The address makes it clear to those who know you that your husband is not the XYZ referred to. Those who don't know you are not interested.

Anniversary Date

Dear Ann: My parents had a beautiful marriage for 34 years. On the date of their wedding anniversary my brothers and I always sent a gift and took the folks to dinner at the elegant hotel where their romance started. (Mom was a waitress there and pop worked in the kitchen.)

Pop died five months ago. The anniversary date comes up in a few weeks. Should we continue the practice of sending a gift? And should we take Mom to dinner at the hotel, as we always have?

One of my brothers says we should carry on, as before. My other brother says we should let the day pass and do nothing. I don't know what would be best for Mother, so I'm writing for advice. What do you say?—NOT DECIDED.

Dear Not Decided: Don't send a gift to commemorate the anniversary of a marriage which has been terminated by death. And ignoring the date would not be wise either, because you can be sure your mother will not be ignoring it.

Take her to dinner at a new place, somewhere she never has been before. Going back to the hotel without your father may be a very trying experience for her.

Double-Crossed

Dear Ann: I'm 17 and dating a very nice college freshman. My cousin Rozella, who is my age, has trouble getting dates. My mother keeps insisting that I help her. Rozella isn't very bright and I can see why she doesn't attract fellows.

Last weekend I asked my boy friend to get Rozella a date to a campus hop. He dug up some guy from Boston and it was all set. We were supposed to double, but they broke away toward the end of the evening and went on their own.

The next morning Rozella's mother called my mother and gave her an earful. She said Rozella got home at 4 a.m., dead drunk and her clothes in a mess. My aunt blames me for dating her with "a no-good bum." I am sick about this because my mother and aunt say it's all my fault. Is it?—NO THANKS.

-:-

Dear Thanks: A 17-year-old girl who has trouble with one of the simplest and shortest words in the English language should not be going out with boys.

You are not responsible for what happened to Rozella. Most boys will take whatever is offered plus whatever they can talk a girl into. From here on out let Rozella dig up her own dates.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear HELOISE: Oh, how I love you for telling us how to use ammonia in the oven . . . and especially to plug up the vents. . . but . . why stop there?

Put your burner rings and drip pans on the oven shelves at the same time and they too will wash clean in a wink:

I also put any muffin pans or other baking dishes on these same oven shelves and utilize the same time and energy. Wonderful.

KATHY WRIGHT.

DEAR LADIES: For those who missed it, here's how we told you to clean an oven:

We have tried many methods and have found two excellent ones. Our first preference is to fold a bath towel in fourths or sixths and lay it on a rack in the oven. I wet the bath towel with water first and wring it out thoroughly.

Then pour a cup or two of ammonia over this bath towel. Plug up the vents in your oven with wet paper towels, damp wash cloths, or a wet hand towel. We found damp sponges even better for some type vents.

-:-

THE REASON for plugging up the vents is that we have found that the little elf who does the dirty work in that oven and gets all of that carbon and soil from the sides and shelves is done by the fumes of the ammonia itself. So . . . we keep these fumes in the oven without letting them escape through the vents.

We also found, this can be left overnight or four or five hours. Wash as usual with a vinegar and water solution.

Giants' Snap Pirates' Streak Behind Sanford

Belinsky's 4-Hitter, Thomas' Slam Sink Yanks

Cards' 4-Game Chain Broken By Cubs; Redlegs Win

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jack Sanford slapped down some impressive statistics when he sat down to talk contract with the San Francisco Giants this spring, such as a 24-7 won-lost record, including 16 in a row, a World Series shutout and a strong playoff game effort.

But said the management you didn't finish what you started.

Sanford started 20 games during his winning streak and completed only six, and had just 13 complete games in 38 starts for the season.

Jack came to terms after a brief holdout, and set out this season to eliminate that talking point. Wednesday night he threw his third complete game of the young season, a 5-1 seven-hitter over the Pittsburgh Pirates, for his fourth victory. It snapped a four-game Pirates winning streak and shoved the Giants into third place in the National League, only two games out of first.

The four-game winning streak of the league-leading St. Louis Cards was also snapped. Ernie Banks did most of the damage in a 13-8 Cubs victory.

Banks crashed two three-run homers and drove in another run with a single.

In the only other National League game, Jerry Lynch slammed the 13th pinch-hit homer of his career for a 4-3 Cincinnati victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Houston at New York and Los Angeles at Philadelphia games were rained out. The Colts and Mets played three innings before the rains came with the Colts on top 1-0.

Three other Cubs joined Banks in the homer column, Dick Bertell, Ken Hubbs and Nelson Mathews. Banks' first blast gave the Cubs a 3-0 lead, and his second put them back in front 9-8.

Lynch's pinch homer came in the seventh inning while batting for Jim O'Toole, who got the victory.

PIRATE CENTERFIELDER Bill Virdon is safe at second on an error by Giants' first baseman Orlando Cepeda who threw wild to pitcher Jack Sanford while returning the ball after an attempted pick-off in the second inning of the game at Pittsburgh Wednesday night. The ball was then recovered by third baseman Harvey Kuenn who threw to Chuck Hiller at Second for an attempt on Virdon. Giants won, 5-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Senators Top Tigers; Chisox Win Pair; Twins Blasted

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bo Belinsky, the Los Angeles left-hander finished what he started for the first time this season Wednesday night, limiting the New York Yankees to four hits while George Thomas hit a grand slam homer that gave the Angels a 5-3 victory over the world champions.

Belinsky pitched probably his finest game since his no-hitter against Baltimore last May 5.

He allowed the Yankees' first hit when Roger Maris singled with one out in the fifth and ran into serious trouble only in the ninth when the Yankees scored their third run on a walk and singles by Harry Bright and Tony Kubek. Then he avoided a photo-finish by getting Jack Reed to ground out for the final out.

Orlando Pena's four-hit pitching and a 15-hit Kansas City attack subdued Cleveland 11-3 and kept the A's in first place.

Tom Cheney struck out 12 and allowed only seven hits as Washington downed Detroit 4-1 while Ray Herbert started Chicago off to a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore with a 7-0 four-hit first game job. The White Sox took the nightcap 6-4. Boston walloped Minnesota 14-5 to round out the schedule.

George Thomas took care of Yankee starter Ralph Terry, now 3-2, in the first inning when he tagged his grand slam following singles by Billy Moran, Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner.

The Indians' runs came on homers by John Romano in the eighth and Joe Adcock in the ninth. Wayne Causey led the Kansas City attack with three hits, one a homer off loser Gary Bell. The Tigers got the first earned run off Cheney this season on Gus Triandos' run-producing double in the sixth. Cheney's batterymate, Don Leppert, provided the key hits for the Senators with a homer in the second and a double that snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh.

Herbert retired 15 Orioles in order. The White Sox knocked Robin Roberts out in a two-run sixth in the nightcap, moving ahead 4-2 on Floyd Robinson's homer and a squeeze bunt by Sherm Lollar.

Chuck Schilling hit a two-run homer as the second-place Red Sox lashed 16 hits against Twins' starter Jack Kralick and five relivers. Eddie Bressoud also homered for Boston. Earl Wilson got credit for the victory.

A's Blast Six Tribe Hurlers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The hitting problems of the punchless Cleveland Indians may have had Manager Birdie Tebbetts talking to himself, but the focus was on pitching Wednesday night as the high-flying Athletics blasted the Indian hurlers for 15 hits in an 11-3 victory. The Indians used six pitchers.

A major victim in the Kansas City slugfest was Gary Bell, who just a week ago looked brilliant in striking out 10 men and shutting out the Boston Red Sox. The Athletics jumped on Bell for four runs in 2 2-3 innings.

Jack Curtis, Jim Grant, Jim Perry, Barry Latman and Ron Nischwitz followed him to the mound.

A home run by John Romano in the eighth inning gave the Indians their first run in 24 consecutive innings over a three-game stretch. Joe Adcock hit his first homer of the season after Willie Kirkland walked in the ninth inning, and that completed the scoring.

Aside from the two homers, the only Cleveland hits off Orlando Pena, the lean Kansas City right-hander, were singles by Vic Davalillo and Woodie Held. It was Pena's fourth straight victory.

The defeat left the Indians only seven percentage points ahead of last place Washington.

Pedro Ramos, making his first start in nearly two weeks, was picked to start today's game, the last in the two-game series. The Athletics nominated Dave Wickersham.

42 Game Schedule Announced By UFL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Each club in the United Football League will play four games against the other teams in its division during the 1963 season, Commissioner George T. Gareff has announced.

The 42-game schedule released Wednesday shows the league will be divided with Grand Rapids, Toledo and Indianapolis making up the Western Division and Wheeling, Cleveland and Syracuse the Eastern.

The schedule opens Friday night, Aug. 30, with Syracuse playing at Cleveland and closes Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28, with Cleveland at Syracuse, Indianapolis at Wheeling and Grand Rapids at Toledo.

Patterson To See Doctor About Finger

HIGHLAND MILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson has a date with a doctor today for examination of an finger infection he says won't jeopardize his title bout with Sonny Liston, scheduled for June 27 in Las Vegas.

"I don't think my hand is any worse than Liston's knee," Patterson quipped Wednesday night after startling newsmen when he showed up at a boxing show in Union City, N.J., with the hand heavily bandaged.

Beaver Local Slated For Tournament Play

Beaver Local's Beavers will meet Youngstown Liberty in the first round play of the district baseball tournament Friday afternoon at 4 at Bailey Field in Youngstown.

Browns Swap Peters To Lions For Webb

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns announced the trade today of defensive tackle Floyd Peters to the Detroit Lions for halfback-fullback Ken Webb.

"Webb could very well be the halfback we need to pair with Jim Brown," said Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier. "He's strong, quick and a fine blocker. He's also a tough competitor and will fit in perfectly on the various kicking teams."

Peters has been a regular defensive tackle the past two seasons. The Lions apparently sought him as a replacement for Alex Karras, who has been suspended for at least the 1963 season for betting on games.

Umpires Wanted

The Pony League today appealed for umpires to officiate games this season which opens May 27. Don Hancock, president, said men interested may contact him at FU 6-4569.

Little Crosswind Wouldn't Hurt

Screaming Derby Crowd Would Suit No Robbery

By KELSO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—If the trainer of Greentree Stable's Kentucky Derby hopeful No Robbery had just one more wish, he'd ask for the noisiest crowd in derby history and a stiff crosswind at the head of the stretch.

John Gaver, who has won five straight, including the Wood Memorial, with No Robbery, is still worried his wandering colt may try in Saturday's derby to pull his old trick of running where he pleases.

"I'll just hope for a screaming crowd to scare him to the rail when they hit the stretch," Gaver quipped, "and a little crosswind wouldn't hurt."

No Robbery, one of two unbeaten colts in the derby — the other is Candy Spots, the likely favorite—went wide in the Wood for no apparent reason, causing Gaver and jockey Johnny Rotz more than their share of worrying.

The little son of Swaps-Bimlette will go postward in the derby with a new bit to hold his tongue in place and will race with blinkers for the first time.

"I don't know what causes him to wander," Gaver said. "You never know, it just might be something about Aqueduct (site of the Wood). That's the only place he's ever done it."

Rotz worked No Robbery earlier in the week with the new bit and blinkers and said the colt handled much better.

Gaver's concern is heightened by the fact that No Robbery has more early speed than any colt in the race and could cause trouble if he ran out when anyone tried to pass him.

He said he plans to let No Robbery "run it any way he wants to. We're just going to let him go."

Almost without exception, trainers said they plan to let their colts run the race as they see fit.

Woody Stephens, of Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, is the exception.

"I'm not telling anybody what I've got up my sleeve for the Derby," Stephens said. "I won't even tell my wife."

Jimmy Conway, of Darby Dan Farm's Chateaugay, said "I don't care how Chateaugay runs. If nobody wants to go to the front end, and he wants to, then I'd just as soon he would."

Mesh Tenney, of Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, said he'll let his colt do as he pleases.

Vic Fulton, of B. J. Ridder's Royal Tower, said: "My colt will be the last out of the gate and will come from way out of it like he likes to."

Sadowski Posts Third IL Win In Hurling 1-Hitter

By The Associated Press

Bob Sadowski made his third International League start for Atlanta Wednesday night and pitched a one-hitter against the Columbus Jets for his third victory and his third complete game. His earned run average reads .33 after 27 innings.

Former Cracker Bob Burda scratched a single between first and second for the only Columbus hit as Atlanta whipped the Jets 4-0 and regained first place from Arkansas in the Southern Division. Indianapolis shaded Arkansas 3-2 with veteran Joe Shipley hurling a four-hitter for his third consecutive victory.

Cold weather forced postponement of the Jacksonville-Buffalo, Syracuse-Toronto and Rochester-Richmond games.

Sadowski opened the season with a 2-1 victory over Syracuse, and the only Chiefs run was unearned. He rested eight days and then beat the Chiefs again 4-1 on a six-hitter before tossing his sparkler at Columbus.

United Tracksters Down Beaver Local, 67 To 51

Led by the versatile Ken Votaw, United High's track and field team handed Beaver Local a 67-51 setback Wednesday afternoon.

Waterford Patrons To See Derby On TV

General Manager Harry R. Bell announced today that the patrons of Waterford Park will have the opportunity to view the running of the Kentucky Derby over the track's closed circuit television on Saturday.

Special arrangements have been made with International Sound Corp. to bring the running of the Derby direct from Louisville, Ky.

Bell stated "all racing activities will be held up during the running of the Derby so that there will be no interference with the actual running of the run for the roses."

Post time for the 11-race program at Waterford Park is set at 2 p. m. on Saturday with the Derby scheduled to go off at approximately 5.

27 Selected Golfers Eye Las Vegas Money

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The search for desert gold—actually $60,000 in silver money—begins today when 27 selected golfers set forth in the first round of the Tournament of Champions.

This is the 11th annual tournament and the roll is studded with top names, all of whom qualified for the winner's purse of $13,000 by winning one or more major PGA tournaments in the past 12 months.

Never shy at placing a betting price of any sporting attraction, the Las Vegas chance takers agree on one point. Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer are the co-favorites—at odds of 4-1.

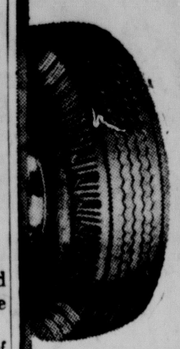

Liverpool's Golfers Defeated By Ursuline

A crack Youngstown Ursuline golf team handed the East Liverpool linksmen an 8-0 defeat — the first loss for the Potters—Wednesday on the Stambaugh course at Youngstown.

J. Taylor took medalist honors with a 37. Bruce Burbick shot a 43 to pace East Liverpool.

Giants' Snap Pirates' Streak Behind Sanford

Belinsky's 4-Hitter, Thomas' Slam Sink Yanks

The Review Sports

THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1963 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 16

Cards' 4-Game Chain Broken By Cubs; Redlegs Win

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jack Sanford slapped down some impressive statistics when he sat down to talk contract with the San Francisco Giants this spring, such as a 24-7 won-lost record, including 16 in a row, a World Series shutout and a strong playoff game effort.

But said the management you didn't finish what you started.

Sanford started 20 games during his winning streak and completed only six, and had just 13 complete games in 38 starts for the season.

Jack came to terms after a brief holdout, and set out this season to eliminate that talking point. Wednesday night he threw his third complete game of the young season, a 5-1 seven-hitter over the Pittsburgh Pirates, for his fourth victory. It snapped a four-game Pirates winning streak and shoved the Giants into third place in the National League, only two games out of first.

The four-game winning streak of the league-leading St. Louis Cards was also snapped. Ernie Banks did most of the damage in a 13-8 Cubs victory.

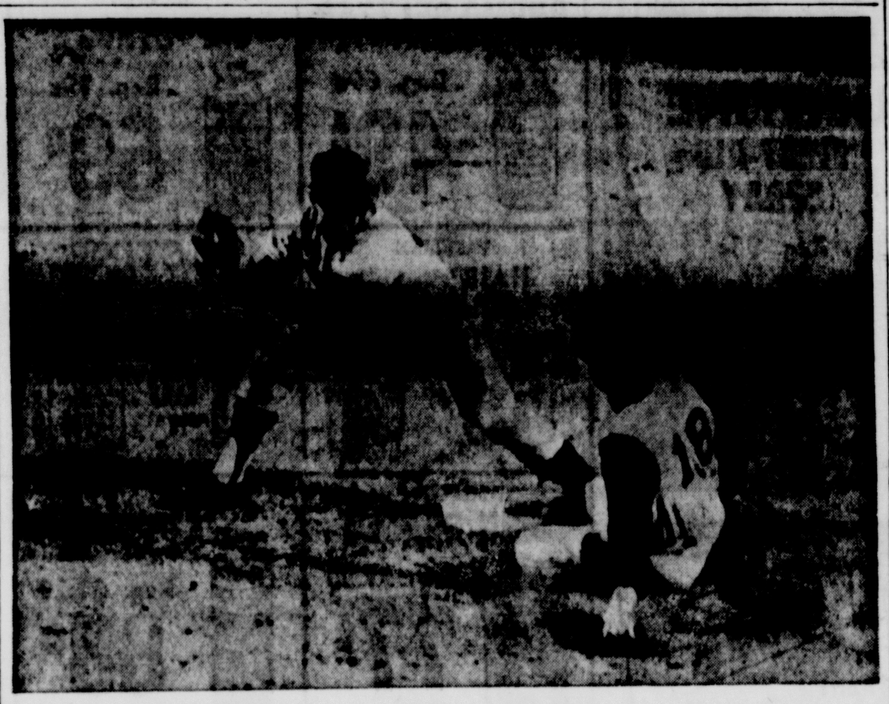

Banks crashed two three-run homers and drove in another run with a single.

In the only other National League game, Jerry Lynch slammed the 13th pinch-hit homer of his career for a 4-3 Cincinnati victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Houston at New York and Los Angeles at Philadelphia games were rained out. The Colts and Mets played three innings before the rains came with the Colts on top 1-0.

Three other Cubs joined Banks in the homer column, Dick Bertell, Ken Hubbs and Nelson Mathews. Banks' first blast gave the Cubs a 3-0 lead, and his second put them back in front 9-8.

Lynch's pinch homer came in the seventh inning while batting for Jim O'Toole, who got the victory.

PIRATE CENTERFIELDER Bill Virdon is safe at second on an error by Giants' first baseman Orlando Cepeda who threw wild to pitcher Jack Sanford while returning the ball after an attempted pick-off in the second inning of the game at Pittsburgh Wednesday night. The ball was then recovered by third baseman Harvey Kuenn who threw to Chuck Hiller at Second for an attempt on Virdon. Giants won, 5-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Senators Top Tigers; Chisox Win Pair; Twins Blasted

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bo Belinsky, the Los Angeles left-hander finished what he started for the first time this season Wednesday night, limiting the New York Yankees to four hits while George Thomas hit a grand slam homer that gave the Angels a 5-3 victory over the world champions.

Belinsky pitched probably his finest game since his no-hitter against Baltimore last May 5.

He allowed the Yankees' first hit when Roger Maris singled with one out in the fifth and ran into serious trouble only in the ninth when the Yankees scored their third run on a walk and singles by Harry Bright and Tony Kubek. Then he avoided a photo-finish by getting Jack Reed to ground out for the final out.

Orlando Pena's four-hit pitching and a 15-hit Kansas City attack subdued Cleveland 11-3 and kept the A's in first place.

Tom Cheney struck out 12 and allowed only seven hits as Washington downed Detroit 4-1 while Ray Herbert started Chicago off to a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore with a 7-0 four-hit first game job. The White Sox took the nightcap 6-4. Boston walloped Minnesota 14-5 to round out the schedule.

George Thomas took care of Yankee starter Ralph Terry, now 3-2, in the first inning when he tagged his grand slam following singles by Billy Moran, Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner.

The Indians' runs came on homers by John Romano in the eighth and Joe Adcock in the ninth. Wayne Causey led the Kansas City attack with three hits, one a homer off loser Gary Bell. The Tigers got the first earned run off Cheney this season on Gus Triandos' run-producing double in the sixth. Cheney's batterymate, Don Leppert, provided the key hits for the Senators with a homer in the second and a double that snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh.

Herbert retired 15 Orioles in order. The White Sox knocked Robin Roberts out in a two-run sixth in the nightcap, moving ahead 4-2 on Floyd Robinson's homer and a squeeze bunt by Sherm Lollar.

Chuck Schilling hit a two-run homer as the second-place Red Sox lashed 16 hits against Twins' starter Jack Kralick and five relivers. Eddie Bressoud also homered for Boston. Earl Wilson got credit for the victory.

A's Blast Six Tribe Hurlers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The hitting problems of the punchless Cleveland Indians may have had Manager Birdie Tebbetts talking to himself, but the focus was on pitching Wednesday night as the high-flying Athletics blasted the Indian hurlers for 15 hits in an 11-3 victory. The Indians used six pitchers.

A major victim in the Kansas City slugfest was Gary Bell, who just a week ago looked brilliant in striking out 10 men and shutting out the Boston Red Sox. The Athletics jumped on Bell for four runs in 2 2-3 innings.

Jack Curtis, Jim Grant, Jim Perry, Barry Latman and Ron Nischwitz followed him to the mound.

A home run by John Romano in the eighth inning gave the Indians their first run in 24 consecutive innings over a three-game stretch. Joe Adcock hit his first homer of the season after Willie Kirkland walked in the ninth inning, and that completed the scoring.

Aside from the two homers, the only Cleveland hits off Orlando Pena, the lean Kansas City right-hander, were singles by Vic Davalillo and Woodie Held. It was Pena's fourth straight victory.

The defeat left the Indians only seven percentage points ahead of last place Washington.

Pedro Ramos, making his first start in nearly two weeks, was picked to start today's game, the last in the two-game series. The Athletics nominated Dave Wickersham.

Patterson To See Doctor About Finger

HIGHLAND MILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson has a date with a doctor today for examination of an finger infection he says won't jeopardize his title bout with Sonny Liston, scheduled for June 27 in Las Vegas.

"I don't think my hand is any worse than Liston's knee," Patterson quipped Wednesday night after startling newsmen when he showed up at a boxing show in Union City, N.J., with the hand heavily bandaged.

Browns Swap Peters To Lions For Webb

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns announced the trade today of defensive tackle Floyd Peters to the Detroit Lions for halfback-fullback Ken Webb.

"Webb could very well be the halfback we need to pair with Jim Brown," said Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier. "He's strong, quick and a fine blocker. He's also a tough competitor and will fit in perfectly on the various kicking teams."

Peters has been a regular defensive tackle the past two seasons. The Lions apparently sought him as a replacement for Alex Karras, who has been suspended for at least the 1963 season for betting on games.

Umpires Wanted

The Pony League today appealed for umpires to officiate games this season which opens May 27. Don Hancock, president, said men interested may contact him at FU 6-4569.

Little Crosswind Wouldn't Hurt

Screaming Derby Crowd Would Suit No Robbery

By KELSO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—If the trainer of Greentree Stable's Kentucky Derby hopeful No Robbery had just one more wish, he'd ask for the noisiest crowd in derby history and a stiff crosswind at the head of the stretch.

John Gaver, who has won five straight, including the Wood Memorial, with No Robbery, is still worried his wandering colt may try in Saturday's derby to pull his old trick of running where he pleases.

"I'll just hope for a screaming crowd to scare him to the rail when they hit the stretch," Gaver quipped, "and a little crosswind wouldn't hurt."

No Robbery, one of two unbeaten colts in the derby — the other is Candy Spots, the likely favorite—went wide in the Wood for no apparent reason, causing Gaver and jockey Johnny Rotz more than their share of worrying.

The little son of Swaps-Bimlette will go postward in the derby with a new bit to hold his tongue in place and will race with blinkers for the first time.

"I don't know what causes him to wander," Gaver said. "You never know, it just might be something about Aqueduct (site of the Wood). That's the only place he's ever done it."

Rotz worked No Robbery earlier in the week with the new bit and blinkers and said the colt handled much better.

Gaver's concern is heightened by the fact that No Robbery has more early speed than any colt in the race and could cause trouble if he ran out when anyone tried to pass him.

He said he plans to let No Robbery "run it any way he wants to. We're just going to let him go."

Almost without exception, trainers said they plan to let their colts run the race as they see fit.

Woody Stephens, of Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, is the exception.

"I'm not telling anybody what I've got up my sleeve for the Derby," Stephens said. "I won't even tell my wife."

Jimmy Conway, of Darby Dan Farm's Chateaugay, said "I don't care how Chateaugay runs. If nobody wants to go to the front end, and he wants to, then I'd just as soon he would."

Mesh Tenney, of Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, said he'll let his colt do as he pleases.

Vic Fulton, of B. J. Ridder's Royal Tower, said: "My colt will be the last out of the gate and will come from way out of it like he likes to."

Bell stated "all racing activities will be held up during the running of the Derby so that there will be no interference with the actual running of the run for the roses."

Post time for the 11-race program at Waterford Park is set at 2 p. m. on Saturday with the Derby scheduled to go off at approximately 5.

27 Selected Golfers Eye Las Vegas Money

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The search for desert gold—actually $60,000 in silver money—begins today when 27 selected golfers set forth in the first round of the Tournament of Champions.

This is the 11th annual tournament and the roll is studded with top names, all of whom qualified for the winner's purse of $13,000 by winning one or more major PGA tournaments in the past 12 months.

Never shy at placing a betting price of any sporting attraction, the Las Vegas chance takers agree on one point. Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer are the co-favorites—at odds of 4-1.

Sadowski Posts Third IL Win In Hurling 1-Hitter

By The Associated Press

Bob Sadowski made his third International League start for Atlanta Wednesday night and pitched a one-hitter against the Columbus Jets for his third victory and his third complete game. His earned run average reads .33 after 27 innings.

Former Cracker Bob Burda scratched a single between first and second for the only Columbus hit as Atlanta whipped the Jets 4-0 and regained first place from Arkansas in the Southern Division. Indianapolis shaded Arkansas 3-2 with veteran Joe Shipley hurling a four-hitter for his third consecutive victory.

Cold weather forced postponement of the Jacksonville-Buffalo, Syracuse-Toronto and Rochester-Richmond games.

Sadowski opened the season with a 2-1 victory over Syracuse, and the only Chiefs run was unearned. He rested eight days and then beat the Chiefs again 4-1 on a six-hitter before tossing his sparkler at Columbus.

NBA Names Kennedy As New Leader

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association has followed the lead of the National Football League by picking a vigorous, new leader to consolidate its status as a major sport. J. Walter Kennedy, 49, the mayor of Stamford, Conn., is the man.

Kennedy will take over Sept. 1 when Maurice Podoloff, 73, retires. Podoloff has guided the league through its many twists and turns over the last 17 years. Two years ago the NFL picked young Pete Rozelle as its commissioner.

Dealing with the nine owners has taxed Podoloff's ingenuity at times. Undoubtedly it also will give Kennedy his share of headaches. However, at a reported $35,000 a year, Kennedy isn't worried.

"I do not anticipate any more differences with the nine men than I had as mayor of a city, of 100,000 people," said Kennedy. "Nobody looks for a Utopia because you know you'll never find it. Certainly there will be differences of opinion, but I have known many of these men for 20 or 25 years and they know me. I would not have accepted the job if there were any handcuffs on me."

Kennedy was publicity man for the league when it was known as the Basketball Association of America from 1946-49, and for two years after it became the NBA. At various times he has been associated with the Harlem Globetrotters and Little League baseball and was a coach and official in high schools and prep schools in the New England area. From 1943 to 1946 he was publicity director at Notre Dame, his alma mater.

Young Nipped In Bid Against CD Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, outspoken critic of civil defense programs, was rejected in a bid to strike from the supplemental appropriations bill a $30 million allocation for surveying, making and stocking civil defense shelters.

Young told the Senate in a speech Wednesday that the program is nothing more than a "boondoggle" and contended the shelters would be useless in the event of a nuclear bombing. The Senate defeated his amendment 65-18.

$29 Million Savings Reported For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor Roger W. Tracy issued a statement today saying that the state operated at an over-all savings of more than $29 million during the last three months.

The statement, on expenditures, covered general revenue funds, highway, liquor and wildlife funds for the February-April period as compared with expenditures for the corresponding period last year, Tracy said.

The report said that as of the close of April, the total expenditures, exclusive of payments to welfare recipients, totaled $386,481,475, or a decline of $29,267,222 from the $415,748,697 for the same three months of last year.

Veteran Hockey Star Plans Retirement

MONTREAL (AP) — Word that he might be traded has led veteran winger Dickie Moore of the Montreal Canadiens to retire from hockey.

"My future is in Montreal," the 32-year-old, two-time National Hockey League scoring champion said Wednesday. "I have no wish to play anywhere else. The only answer is retirement."

Ted Williams Says He Wouldn't Be Manager

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Ted Williams said Wednesday night that there's no chance he could be enticed to manage a baseball team.

"You couldn't pay me enough to manage," the former Boston Red Sox hitting great said.

Williams said he had two offers to manage in the major leagues but turned both down.

Yankee Strategy Saves U.S. From 'Black Day'

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil, (AP) — Only Yankee strategy which sprung loose a balding, Irish-bred mite, and a high-flying Sooner with iron muscles kept American track men from a Black Wednesday disaster in the Pan-American Games.

Amidst explosion of four Pan-Am records in five men's events contested Wednesday, 5-foot-8, 125-pound Pete McArdle, a 34-year-old New York mechanic, soundly trounced Argentina's defending 10,000-meter champion, Osvaldo Suarez, and Oklahoma's J. D. Martin won the decathlon in record-breaking style.

Otherwise, the Yankees were belted out of the gold medal picture in three of their specialties—the 200-meter sprint, 800-meter run and the 400-meter hurdles—by a Venezuelan, a Canadian and an Argentine.

The track and field forces rested today, awaiting the final 10 men's and four women's events Friday and Saturday. Despite Wednesday's reverses, the big Yank all-sports battalion counted a whopping total of 76 gold medals with a lot more to come.

McArdle's victory, which came after Canada's Don Bertoia stormed to a record 800-meter triumph and Venezuela's Rafael Romero Sandres won the 200-meter in a photo finish, ruined Suarez' bid for a third successive Pan-Am crown.

McArdle's clocking of 29 minutes, 52.1 seconds broke the Pan-Am record of 30:17.2 set by Suarez in Chicago in 1959.

Decathlon winner Martin, poker-faced, former pole-vault champion from the University of Oklahoma, used his specialty to wrap up the grueling, two-day, 10-event contest.

Martin collected 1,122 vital points by clearing 14 feet, 11¾ inches, and wrecked the bid of the first day leader, Venezuela's Hector Martinez, and Canadian champion, Doug Gairdner.

Some Of Traded Players Haven't Been Going Well

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Traded players have proved one thing during the first month of the major league baseball season—why they were traded.

Except for a handful, such as Luis Aparicio and Al Smith of Baltimore, Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs, Bob Miller of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Don Nottebart of Houston, Don Leppert of Washington, and Dick Groat and George Altman of St. Louis, players who were swapped last winter have not distinguished themselves.

Pete Runnels, for example, is batting .210 with Houston. He led the American League last year, hitting .326 with Boston. Bill Skowron, the slugger traded by the Yankees to the Dodgers, is hitting .238 with only one home run.

Roman Mejias, who went to the Red Sox in the Runnels trade, is batting a microscopic .136. Dick Stuart, the Pittsburgh slugger swapped to Boston, is at .254. Joe Adcock, dealt by Milwaukee to Cleveland, is hitting .222. Duke Snider, ex-Dodger with the New York Mets, is at .190.

Ron Hansen, the new White Sox shortstop who figured prominently in the multiple player swap between Baltimore and Chicago, is at .228 after a big night Wednesday. Dave Nicholson and rookie Pete Ward, who accompanied Hansen in the deal, are at .207 and .230, respectively.

Aparicio and Smith, the key new Orioles in that major trade, are doing very well indeed. Aparicio is batting .307 and leads the American League with six stolen bases. Smith is doing even better at .338. Groat, obtained from Pittsburgh, and Altman, obtained from the Cubs, have had a lot to do with the Cards' fine showing. Altman is hitting .368. Groat is at .353 and doing his usual job at shortstop.

Leppert, an ex-Pirate, is the leading Washington hitter with a .340 average, four homers and 11 runs batted in.

Except for Jackson, Nottebart and Miller, the traded pitchers seem to be faring just as poorly as the majority of traded hitters. Jackson is 3-2 with a 2.00 earned run average with the Cubs, and Miller is 2-1 with an under 2.00 ERA with the Dodgers. Nottebart is 3-0 with Houston. But Bob Turley is 0-3 with the Angels, Tracy Stallard 0-3 with the Mets, Don Cardwell 1-2 at Pittsburgh, and Jack Fisher 1-2 with San Francisco.

Of the 20 pitchers traded during the winter, only Jackson, Miller and Nottebart have won more than one game.

TV News Talk Sparks Quibble Over Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

MATHEMATICAL MIXUP: The way Charles A. Halleck figures it, 300,000 more people are out of work in private industry since President Kennedy took office.

The way the Labor Department figures it, the House Republican leader isn't very good at figures.

The quibbling over job figures began at a televised Republican leadership news conference Halleck held jointly Wednesday with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

The two top Republicans charged the Democratic administration with not being able to solve the nation's unemployment problem. In making his point, Halek reasoned this way:

When Kennedy took office in January 1961 unemployment totaled 5,385,000. Two years later, the figure was 4,672,000—a net reduction of 713,000.

But the federal payroll increased by 125,141, the armed forces added 192,000, and state and local governments, 690,000.

"This means there have been 1,007,141 people added to the government's tax-financed payroll at all levels since Mr. Kennedy took office," Halleck said. "from these figures it would appear that there are 300,000 more people out of work under private employment than there were when Mr. Kennedy took office."

Later, at the Labor Department, a spokesman said the Indianan's calculation was incorrect and took no account of the number of young people who have moved into the labor force.

—:—

CUTTING THE CUT: A Senate Appropriations subcommittee has voted to restore about $64 million of the $92 million sliced by the House from the Post Office Department's budget for the coming year.

Thus, Postmaster General J. Edward Day, who had declared he would have to make heavy cuts in service if the reduction stood, scored a partial but significant victory.

—:—

VETERANS: The Senate has sent to President Kennedy three bills authorizing higher benefit payments to certain disabled war veterans and to survivors of veterans.

Oft-Traveled Cheney Ace, Stopper For Nats

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Ever since he zeroed in on home plate, Tom Cheney, a much-traveled pitcher with a last-place ball club, has been allowing American League rivals little more than zeroes.

Cheney is the ace and stopper of the Washington Senators' pitching staff.

The needy Nats have won only seven games this season and Cheney has won four of them.

He'd managed to total only 10 victories in five previous major league seasons, four of which were spent partially in the minors.

"It was the middle of last year when I started to lick my control problem," said the unbeaten Cheney, who posted his fourth straight complete game victory Wednesday over Detroit 4-1.

"The big factor in my finding my control was that I started getting a chance to work."

Cheney thrives on work. One night last September Manager Mickey Vernon sent him out to face Baltimore. Cheney received his customary support from the Senator batters and it took him 16 innings to subdue the Orioles 2-1. En route, he struck out 21.

Three of his seven victories last year and two of his four so far this season were shutouts.

NBA Names Kennedy As New Leader

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association has followed the lead of the National Football League by picking a vigorous, new leader to consolidate its status as a major sport. J. Walter Kennedy, 49, the mayor of Stamford, Conn., is the man.

Kennedy will take over Sept. 1 when Maurice Podoloff, 73, retires. Podoloff has guided the league through its many twists and turns over the last 17 years. Two years ago the NFL picked young Pete Rozelle as its commissioner.

Dealing with the nine owners has taxed Podoloff's ingenuity at times. Undoubtedly it also will give Kennedy his share of headaches. However, at a reported $35,000 a year, Kennedy isn't worried.

"I do not anticipate any more differences with the nine men than I had as mayor of a city, of 100,000 people," said Kennedy. "Nobody looks for a Utopia because you know you'll never find it. Certainly there will be differences of opinion, but I have known many of these men for 20 or 25 years and they know me. I would not have accepted the job if there were any handcuffs on me."

Kennedy was publicity man for the league when it was known as the Basketball Association of America from 1946-49, and for two years after it became the NBA. At various times he has been associated with the Harlem Globetrotters and Little League baseball and was a coach and official in high schools and prep schools in the New England area. From 1943 to 1946 he was publicity director at Notre Dame, his alma mater.

Young Nipped In Bid Against CD Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, outspoken critic of civil defense programs, was rejected in a bid to strike from the supplemental appropriations bill a $30 million allocation for surveying, making and stocking civil defense shelters.

Young told the Senate in a speech Wednesday that the program is nothing more than a "boondoggle" and contended the shelters would be useless in the event of a nuclear bombing. The Senate defeated his amendment 65-18.

$29 Million Savings Reported For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor Roger W. Tracy issued a statement today saying that the state operated at an over-all savings of more than $29 million during the last three months.

The statement, on expenditures, covered general revenue funds, highway, liquor and wildlife funds for the February-April period as compared with expenditures for the corresponding period last year, Tracy said.

The report said that as of the close of April, the total expenditures, exclusive of payments to welfare recipients, totaled $386,481,475, or a decline of $29,267,222 from the $415,748,697 for the same three months of last year.

Veteran Hockey Star Plans Retirement

MONTREAL (AP) — Word that he might be traded has led veteran winger Dickie Moore of the Montreal Canadiens to retire from hockey.

"My future is in Montreal," the 32-year-old, two-time National Hockey League scoring champion said Wednesday. "I have no wish to play anywhere else. The only answer is retirement."

Ted Williams Says He Wouldn't Be Manager

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Ted Williams said Wednesday night that there's no chance he could be enticed to manage a baseball team.

"You couldn't pay me enough to manage," the former Boston Red Sox hitting great said.

Williams said he had two offers to manage in the major leagues but turned both down.

Yankee Strategy Saves U.S. From 'Black Day'

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil, (AP) — Only Yankee strategy which sprung loose a balding, Irish-bred mite, and a high-flying Sooner with iron muscles kept American track men from a Black Wednesday disaster in the Pan-American Games.

Amidst explosion of four Pan-Am records in five men's events contested Wednesday, 5-foot-8, 125-pound Pete McArdle, a 34-year-old New York mechanic, soundly trounced Argentina's defending 10,000-meter champion, Osvaldo Suarez, and Oklahoma's J. D. Martin won the decathlon in record-breaking style.

Otherwise, the Yankees were belted out of the gold medal picture in three of their specialties—the 200-meter sprint, 800-meter run and the 400-meter hurdles—by a Venezuelan, a Canadian and an Argentine.

The track and field forces rested today, awaiting the final 10 men's and four women's events Friday and Saturday. Despite Wednesday's reverses, the big Yank all-sports battalion counted a whopping total of 76 gold medals with a lot more to come.

McArdle's victory, which came after Canada's Don Bertoia stormed to a record 800-meter triumph and Venezuela's Rafael Romero Sandres won the 200-meter in a photo finish, ruined Suarez' bid for a third successive Pan-Am crown.

McArdle's clocking of 29 minutes, 52.1 seconds broke the Pan-Am record of 30:17.2 set by Suarez in Chicago in 1959.

Decathlon winner Martin, poker-faced, former pole-vault champion from the University of Oklahoma, used his specialty to wrap up the grueling, two-day, 10-event contest.

Martin collected 1,122 vital points by clearing 14 feet, 11¾ inches, and wrecked the bid of the first day leader, Venezuela's Hector Martinez, and Canadian champion, Doug Gairdner.

Some Of Traded Players Haven't Been Going Well

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Traded players have proved one thing during the first month of the major league baseball season—why they were traded.

Except for a handful, such as Luis Aparicio and Al Smith of Baltimore, Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs, Bob Miller of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Don Nottebart of Houston, Don Leppert of Washington, and Dick Groat and George Altman of St. Louis, players who were swapped last winter have not distinguished themselves.

Pete Runnels, for example, is batting .210 with Houston. He led the American League last year, hitting .326 with Boston. Bill Skowron, the slugger traded by the Yankees to the Dodgers, is hitting .238 with only one home run.

Roman Mejias, who went to the Red Sox in the Runnels trade, is batting a microscopic .136. Dick Stuart, the Pittsburgh slugger swapped to Boston, is at .254. Joe Adcock, dealt by Milwaukee to Cleveland, is hitting .222. Duke Snider, ex-Dodger with the New York Mets, is at .190.

Ron Hansen, the new White Sox shortstop who figured prominently in the multiple player swap between Baltimore and Chicago, is at .228 after a big night Wednesday. Dave Nicholson and rookie Pete Ward, who accompanied Hansen in the deal, are at .207 and .230, respectively.

Aparicio and Smith, the key new Orioles in that major trade, are doing very well indeed. Aparicio is batting .307 and leads the American League with six stolen bases. Smith is doing even better at .338. Groat, obtained from Pittsburgh, and Altman, obtained from the Cubs, have had a lot to do with the Cards' fine showing. Altman is hitting .368. Groat is at .353 and doing his usual job at shortstop.

Leppert, an ex-Pirate, is the leading Washington hitter with a .340 average, four homers and 11 runs batted in.

Except for Jackson, Nottebart and Miller, the traded pitchers seem to be faring just as poorly as the majority of traded hitters. Jackson is 3-2 with a 2.00 earned run average with the Cubs, and Miller is 2-1 with an under 2.00 ERA with the Dodgers. Nottebart is 3-0 with Houston. But Bob Turley is 0-3 with the Angels, Tracy Stallard 0-3 with the Mets, Don Cardwell 1-2 at Pittsburgh, and Jack Fisher 1-2 with San Francisco.

Of the 20 pitchers traded during the winter, only Jackson, Miller and Nottebart have won more than one game.

TV News Talk Sparks Quibble Over Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

MATHEMATICAL MIXUP: The way Charles A. Halleck figures it, 300,000 more people are out of work in private industry since President Kennedy took office.

The way the Labor Department figures it, the House Republican leader isn't very good at figures.

The quibbling over job figures began at a televised Republican leadership news conference Halleck held jointly Wednesday with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

The two top Republicans charged the Democratic administration with not being able to solve the nation's unemployment problem. In making his point, Halleck reasoned this way:

When Kennedy took office in January 1961 unemployment totaled 5,385,000. Two years later, the figure was 4,672,000—a net reduction of 713,000.

But the federal payroll increased by 125,141, the armed forces added 192,000, and state and local governments, 690,000.

"This means there have been 1,007,141 people added to the government's tax-financed payroll at all levels since Mr. Kennedy took office," Halleck said. "from these figures it would appear that there are 300,000 more people out of work under private employment than there were when Mr. Kennedy took office."

Later, at the Labor Department, a spokesman said the Indianan's calculation was incorrect and took no account of the number of young people who have moved into the labor force.

—:—

CUTTING THE CUT: A Senate Appropriations subcommittee has voted to restore about $64 million of the $92 million sliced by the House from the Post Office Department's budget for the coming year.

Thus, Postmaster General J. Edward Day, who had declared he would have to make heavy cuts in service if the reduction stood, scored a partial but significant victory.

—:—

VETERANS: The Senate has sent to President Kennedy three bills authorizing higher benefit payments to certain disabled war veterans and to survivors of veterans.

Oft-Traveled Cheney Ace, Stopper For Nats

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Ever since he zeroed in on home plate, Tom Cheney, a much-traveled pitcher with a last-place ball club, has been allowing American League rivals little more than zeroes.

Cheney is the ace and stopper of the Washington Senators' pitching staff.

The needy Nats have won only seven games this season and Cheney has won four of them. He'd managed to total only 10 victories in five previous major league seasons, four of which were spent partially in the minors.

"It was the middle of last year when I started to lick my control problem," said the unbeaten Cheney, who posted his fourth straight complete game victory Wednesday over Detroit 4-1.

"The big factor in my finding my control was that I started getting a chance to work."

Cheney thrives on work. One night last September Manager Mickey Vernon sent him out to face Baltimore. Cheney received his customary support from the Senator batters and it took him 16 innings to subdue the Orioles 2-1. En route, he struck out 21.

Three of his seven victories last year and two of his four so far this season were shutouts.

BATTING—Ernie Banks, Cubs, drove in seven runs with two homers and a single as Chicago outslugged National League leading St. Louis 13-8 and ended Cards winning streak at four games.

PITCHING—Ray Herbert, White Sox, allowed only four hits in 7-0 first game victory over Baltimore that started doubleheader sweep. Chicago also won nightcap, 6-4.

Rex Bowen, now a scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates, signed Maury Wills when the former scouted for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1951.

Parents Should Guide Child To Read

Dr. Garry Meyers

Often in this column I have entreated parents to limit the viewing of TV by children. My emphasis has been on forbidding their viewing of programs of violence. While such programs frighten some young children, their greatest damage, no doubt, is to cause this child to grow calloused to human pain and suffering and to suppose that human life is very cheap. Also I have said that the harm from viewing programs of gore and horror is undoubtably greatest for the child from two to five, since he inclines to accept what he sees and hears as real. Of course it's likely that many children derive similar harm from programs of violence.

—:—

AND LET ME note here that, although a few good programs for children are appearing, many programs of violence can still be seen by a flip of the dial and that children left to their own choosing often select such programs. The galloping of horses and the clattering of their feet and the slugging and stabbing and shooting prove very fascinating to young children.

Some other reasons for limiting the viewing of TV by young children, regardless of what they view, is the excessive amount of time they spend at it as mere passive watchers and listeners, when they might better be out-of-doors at good fun with other children or at creative fund with toys and tools or at reading or being read to.

Consider how many young children hear no stories read and how many older children read nothing for days and days on end, summer as well as winter. In the average home of several children from 2 to 14, consider how little time each child spends in having fun reading or at creative play alone or with other children.

OF COURSE YOU have heard it said that parents should be able to make reading and wholesome fun with other children so attractive to their child that he will not choose to spend much time watching TV. Not many parents achieve this, though, however hard they try. How nearly impossible it is for them to do so!

A more promising way is first to limit the viewing of TV and in the meanwhile to continue to try to make these other good things attractive. It's the same old problem of guiding the child at any age, but especially so with the youngster from two to six.

Just to aim to make attractive to him what is wholesome for him to have or do is not enough. He must also learn that there are a few things he must never have and a few things he must never do. Then making the things wholesome for him to have do more attractive can bring desirable results.

In child - rearing there's no substitute for some basic restraints.

My bulletins, "How To Teach Child Meaning Of No," "Love And Restraint" and "Celebrate Your Child's Successes", may be secured by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parents Should Guide Child To Read

Often in this column I have entreated parents to limit the viewing of TV by children. My emphasis has been on forbidding their viewing of programs of violence. While such programs frighten some young children, their greatest damage, no doubt, is to cause this child to grow calloused to human pain and suffering and to suppose that human life is very cheap. Also I have said that the harm from viewing programs of gore and horror is undoubtably greatest for the child from two to five, since he inclines to accept what he sees and hears as real. Of course it's likely that many children derive similar harm from programs of violence.

AND LET ME note here that, although a few good programs for children are appearing, many programs of violence can still be seen by a flip of the dial and that children left to their own choosing often select such programs. The galloping of horses and the clattering of their feet and the slugging and stabbing and shooting prove very fascinating to young children.

Some other reasons for limiting the viewing of TV by young children, regardless of what they view, is the excessive amount of time they spend at it as mere passive watchers and listeners, when they might better be out-of-doors at good fun with other children or at creative fund with toys and tools or at reading or being read to.

Consider how many young children hear no stories read and how many older children read nothing for days and days on end, summer as well as winter. In the average home of several children from 2 to 14, consider how little time each child spends in having fun reading or at creative play alone or with other children.

OF COURSE YOU have heard it said that parents should be able to make reading and wholesome fun with other children so attractive to their child that he will not choose to spend much time watching TV. Not many parents achieve this, though, however hard they try. How nearly impossible it is for them to do so!

A more promising way is first to limit the viewing of TV and in the meanwhile to continue to try to make these other good things attractive. It's the same old problem of guiding the child at any age, but especially so with the youngster from two to six.

Just to aim to make attractive to him what is wholesome for him to have or do is not enough. He must also learn that there are a few things he must never have and a few things he must never do. Then making the things wholesome for him to have do more attractive can bring desirable results.

In child - rearing there's no substitute for some basic restraints.

My bulletins, "How To Teach Child Meaning Of No," "Love And Restraint" and "Celebrate Your Child's Successes", may be secured by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

KOALA BEARS

QUESTION: Why is the koala bear found only in Australia?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Almost everybody knows something about the Australian koala, no doubt because they remind us so much of the cute little stuffed teddy bears we are are all so familiar with. (People sometimes think teddy bears were made in imitation of koalas. Actually, they came from a cartoon of President "Teddy" Roosevelt showing him with a bear cub.)

The cozy-looking little koala of Australia is not a bear at all; he belongs to the gorup of animals called "marsupials," who carry their young around in pouches. The little koala in the picture has now graduated from his mother's pouch and is riding around on her back, which he will do for quite awhile before getting out on his own.

At one time Australia was connected to the land to the north west (see map.) Many ancient animals moved into Australia across this "land bridge." Then the bridge disappeared. For this reason many of the fiercer, flesh-eating animals, who developed later, did not get to Australia at all. This gave the inoffensive marsupials like the koala, who lives on leaves, a chance to survive in Australia, while they were exterminated by flesh-eaters in other places.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Although almost all the marsupials are now restricted to living in Australia, there is one kind who has managed to survive in other places and who lives in many parts of the United States. Can you guess its name? It begins with "a."
